fficer of National principles. It is of cour n the power of the Opposition to organize the House, elect men their own choice, ar hape the entire legislation of the popular ranch of Congress, but we apprehend the branch of Congress, but we apprehend they will encounter insuperable difficulties, unless, fortunately for the country, they should east aside sectional prejudices and come together in a harmonious and fraternal apirit. Should discord rule the hour, it is impossible to divine when and how the flouse will be organized, though in case of absolute necessity, as a last resort, we have no doubt the National mumbers of the Opposition will shape their course so as to secure a Conservative in the Speaker's chair. House establishes the weakness and unpopularity of the Administration, and while it is rebuke to the Democracy for accrificing high principle and eminent leaders to expediency it is a lesson which will not probably be lo pon them for the future. In a recent inquest in England, Mr. Dab ospital surgeon to an institution in London, aid he had frequently discovered the prisers in the act of removing the dress rom the sores, and irritating them, with a hope of continuing longer in hospital. The doctor cited one case of a prisoner, for whose disease he could find no remedy, and who appeared to be daily wasting away. He at last ordered him to be stripped naked, and to spread out his arms, when a vein in his arm squirred blood, and he then discovered that he had by some meass obtained a lancet, with which he frequently bled himsoff down to death's door, in order to remain in the hospital. The jury returned a verdict to the effect that the deceased died by poison administered by his own hands, with the view to gain admission into the infirmary, and not to occasion his own death.

Native Georgia Wink—A Fair Than.—On Monday, the lith inst., quite a large party of gentlemen of this city and its vicinity, assembled at the store of Messrs. Dawson & Ektimer, for the purpose of sampling some nature wine, made by Mr. Charles At, at his vineyards in Wilkes county, Georgia. The wine offered was the pare juice of the Catawba grape, only about eight weeks from the press, and of the quality known as "Belli Catawba." It was very impartially tested, side by side with several older brands, from some of the most noted Ohio vintners, and the best judges present unanimously pronounced it superior in aroma and purity of flavor to any native samples yet presented to their notice: and predicted for it the highest degree of crecilence, when it shall have attained the proper age. If it were necessary to give weight to the decision, we might need be comed, who are no leading to the proper age. If it were necessary to give weight to the leading of the proper age.
