MORE ABOUT PENNSYLVANIA.

The returns of the late election in Pennsylvania render it certain that the Democratic majority is below two thousand. This is a small majority indeed. If the Locofocos had a million of dollars, an army of voters, and the vilest and most unscrupulous frauds, have barely saved themselves from disconfiture, it may be fairly presumed that in November they will not even have the Keystone State, for they cannot repeat the game so skillfully played on the 14th. More orators will be wanted in the State, and their funds must be distributed in hands less Maryland, Tennessee, Indiana, Illinois, and other States, and the combinations having been thus renewed with any show of success, it is there are other and still more vile arts for the benef that Mr. Buchanan will carry Pennsylvania. It is not to be denied that at the recent contest the followers of the old-line Whigs declined especially in Chester, Delaware, and Philadelphia counties, where the Locofocos simply a struggle between Buchanan and Fremont. The New York Herald press, comprising the Times, Tribune and the Herald, raise a terrible howl against the Fillmore men in Pennsylvania, and Philadelphia, charging a coalition with the Buchanan men for the purpose of rendering Col. FREMONT. The Times says: The leaders of the Fillmore party have given Buchanan the ticket." The Tribune says: "We have reason to suspect that the managers did their best to sell out the Fillmore people and to sell out the Fillmore ticket that the Central Republican Committee of Philadelphia have been, and the votes of these designating. The Tribune speaks in the following terms: "We may safely conclude, that some thousand Fillmore men, did not support the Fillmore ticket, but cast their votes for FREMONT, did not support the Fillmore ticket, but cast their votes for FREMONT, did not support the Fillmore ticket, but cast their votes for FREMONT
