DRAINAGE OF THE CITY.

We have had for several days in our possession an able and comprehensive report to the City Council, by Louis H. Pilie, City Surveyor, on the mode and cost of draining the swamps in the rear of New Orleans. The subject is one of vast importance, not alone from the wealth that must accrue to the city by the reclamation of submerged lands, but because the investigations of competent observers justify the conclusion that it will materially conduce to the preservation of public health. We shall, therefore, furnish our readers with a careful analysis of Mr. Pilie's report.

Mr. Pilie considers the best system of drainage to be that employed in Holland, which amounts to the division of the territory into suitable polders or sections—to the construction of protection levees—the digging of the necessary canals, and the erection of the proper machines. He proposes to divide the territory to be drained into four sections; the first will comprise the land lying between Toulouse street, Carondelet Canal and Bayou St. John, on one side, Julia street and the New Canal on the other, the river in front, and Lake Pontchartrain in the rear. The second will embrace all the land between Julia street and the New Canal on one side, the upper limit of the city on the other, the river in front, and Carrollton avenue in the rear. The third comprehends the land lying between Toulouse street, Carondelet Canal and Bayou St. John on one side, Lafayette avenue on the other, the river in front, and Lake Pontchartrain in the rear. The fourth includes the land lying between Lafayette avenue on one side, the Canal des Pecheurs and lower limit of Heligenberg's plantation, as far as Lake Pontchartrain, on the other, the river in front, and Lake Pontchartrain in the rear. In these four sections there are 29,036 acres, of which 5,678 are imperfectly drained, and the remainder require to be drained.

The total cost of levees in the first section is estimated at $32,826; in the second, at $1,000; in the third, at $60,450, and in the fourth, at $129,680. It is recommended that the buildings and machinery to be employed in the several sections be erected on the ridges, as being the most central part of each section, and affording a better and safer foundation. The cost of the whole is estimated at $340,000. The first section requires an outlay of $141,050 for widening canals and digging new ones; for the second section the sum estimated for the same purposes is $27,761; for the third section, $175,786, and for the fourth section, $374,605. The digging of the whole of these canals is calculated to be done by machinery. We extract the following from the report:

RECAPITULATION OF THE COST OF DRAINING THE CITY.

First Section—For levees	$32,826
For machines and building	60,000
For canals	141,050	$233,876
Second Section—For levees	$13,500
For machines and building	50,000
For canals	27,764
		$91,324
Third Section—For levees	$50,490
For machines and building	90,000
For canals	175,786
		$316,246
Fourth Section—For levees	$149,650
For machines and building	120,000
For canals	374,605
		$624,286
Grand total		$1,318,731

Mr. Pilie considers that a tax of $7 74/100 per lot of 32 by 128 feet of lands now undrained will cover the whole cost of draining the first section; that a tax of $12 90c. per lot of the same dimensions will cover the cost of draining the second section; that a tax of 86 64c. per lot of the same dimensions will cover the cost of draining the third section, and finally, that a tax of $4 59c. per lot of the same dimensions will cover the cost of draining the fourth section.

He concludes by briefly referring to the results the city will derive from the drainage. It will render New Orleans one of the healthiest places in the world, will add largely to the growth and population, will extend her commerce, will retain the inhabitants here during the summer, will induce them to build delightful residences on the lake shore, and upon the now swampy lands of the city, and will swell by its increased assessment rolls, thereby reducing the rates of taxation. We believe every word of this, and fervently trust that the whole project of the Surveyor may be speedily carried into execution.

CAFE DES CREOLES.—At No. 43 Orleans street, directly opposite the French theatre, there is a cafe for those who love the taste of Cafe des Creoles. The amateurs of the famous St. Louis liquor here have a rendezvous of a day, for a new article at this establishment, in addition to which we perceive that a regular and exceedingly appetizing lunch is set forth during the evening, so that the habitues of the theatre, supply by reading the street during the intervals between the acts, may enjoy a pleasant repast and a glass of excellent liquor. This cafe is clearly a good idea on the part of the proprietor, as visitors to the theatre are often disposed to indulge in what the French term "bite and sup," but have not time to await the culinary preparation of a restaurant. The lunch is always ready, and may be partaken of after the close of the performances.

ORLEANS THEATRE.—The same pieces, "Le Chalet" and "La Fille du Regiment," which were so successfully given at the Orleans Theatre last Thursday night, are to be repeated this evening.

We learn that in Philadelphia, on the 6th, great excitement was created by a gang of about twelve men armed with muskets, carrying a banner with the motto "We will protect the poor," and a loaf of bread pictured upon it. The police dispersed them and captured all the guns.

NEW YORK.—According to appearances the Democratic majority in the State will be from eight to ten thousand. The Senate is Black Republican, and the House Democratic.

OHIO.—The official vote at the recent election in this State stands: Chase, 160,826; Payne, 119,065; Van Trump, 10,207.

MASSACHUSETTS.—According to the Boston Post, in all but four towns the vote for Governor stands as follows:

Banks, Republican	61,407
Gardner, American	37,644
Beach, Democrat	30,902
Swan, Straight Republican	150
Scattering	20
Bank's plurality over Gardner	23,763

The Senate (complete) stands: Republicans, 31; Democrats, 4; Americans, 3. The House standing: Banks, 34; Gardner, 40; Democrats. Nine districts to hear from.

MORAL OF HONOR.—The French Emperor, by special decree, gives a medal of honor of the first class to Capt. Walter Powers, of the United States ship Hoosred, for his activity and energy in saving the French ship La Rose Jeune, shipwrecked near the isle of St. Martin.

MACARENA, the well known lenor, and Hanah Vartan, brother of the famous contralto, indulged in a regular set to in New York, on the evening of the 5th, in which the latter received decidedly unhandsome treatment. Both parties were arrested, and brought before Justice Davison, where Macarena was ordered to find bail to keep the peace. Having complied with the man date of the Court, he was set at liberty. The origin of the quarrel was a peculiarly affair, as usual.

The New York Times, of the 6th instant, says

The matter of the application and a writ of habeas corpus for the release of Mrs. Caroline Wellman from confinement at Sanford Hall, Flushing, was again before Judge Roosevelt yesterday. At the close of the argument as to admissibility of her affidavit, which is a lengthened statement of the origin and character of her trials and troubles, Mr. Brady submitted letters from the lady herself, announcing her free escape from all restraint at the instance of her brother, who had just arrived in town, declaring her intention to be to return with him to the home of her parents in Mississippi, and acknowledging that she had been kindly treated by both General McDonald, the proprietor, and Dr. Barstow, the medical attendant of the retreat at Flushing. Counsel for the relator, thereupon, withdrew their petition, and thus the proceedings terminated.

Very violent harangues were made by some, not of them, but who claimed to be their leaders. They then invited the Mayor by deputation, in his office, to ask him whether the 10,000 barrels of flour mentioned in his message. The Mayor addressed them in words of promise and advice, after which they gradually dispersed. There were several unemployed women—young girls in the crowd—who appeared to be a part of the meeting.

From Washington.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—Brigham Young, in a communication to the Indian Bureau, says if he is to have the direction of Indian affairs, and expected to maintain friendly relations with the Indians, he would suggest to travelers to omit the infamous practice of shooting them when they happen to see one. Hence it is natural for them to wreak vengeance. The government should make more liberal presents. He has proven that it is far cheaper to feed and clothe the Indians than to fight them. When the fight is over it is always followed by extensive presents, which, if properly distributed in the first instance, might have averted a fight. The troops must be kept away, for it is a prevalent fact that wherever the most of these are, we may expect to find the greatest amount of hostile Indians and the least security of persons. If these items are complied with he has no hesitation in saying that, so far as Utah is concerned, no Indian would molest the property or persons of travelers. He says the Department has often manifested its approval of his manner of Indian affairs, but has never in its disapproval, and asks why he should be subjected to such annoyances in regard to the funds for the Utah, his expenses, why denied his salary, and why should appropriations made for the benefit of the Indians of Utah be retained in the Treasury, and individuals left unpaid? He concludes by saying, "These are questions I leave for you to consider at your leisure, and, in the meanwhile, I submit such a course in relation thereto as you shall see fit to direct."

NEW YACHT OFF CAPE RACE—EUROPEAN NEWS.—St. Johns, N. F., Thursday, Nov. 5.—It has been impossible to get the news per yacht of the New York Associated Press fully equipped until the present time; but for the future she will be found constantly at her post—about eight or ten miles due South of the Cape Race Light—and fully equipped for the duty assigned to her. Commanders of steamers and sailing vessels are thus provided with ready means of communication with the Old World. Newfoundland and London telegraph offices at Trepassey and St. John, and thence, through the wires, with the press and public of the United States and British Provinces. The next news from Europe, per Arabia, will be due off Cape Race between Sunday night and Tuesday next.

CALIFORNIA.

THE GRANADA'S MAILS.

The mails by the steamship Granada were brought to the city last evening. The Granada, J. P. GRIFFIN, commander, left New York on the 2d, and arrived at Havana on the morning of the 9th, followed by steamers Philadelphia, from New Orleans, and St. Louis, from Aspinwall. The latter, en route for New York, had 650 passengers, and $1,170,000 in treasure, with advices from San Francisco to the 30th ult. She was to leave for New York on the 10th instant. The Granada brought $608,000 in specie, and 260 passengers.

There is nothing of special interest in Havana. Business is dull and money matters are stringent. Left in port, besides the above, steamer Solent and propeller Vigo.

The following are the passengers by the Granada:

In consequence of the lateness of the hour the mails were not distributed. We have, however, received California papers to the 30th ult. They are remarkably barren of interest.

The news of the massacre of over 100 emigrants by Indians, at a point about 300 miles beyond Utah, is confirmed. A letter in the San Francisco Herald says:

I have just had a conversation with Mr. B., who has read a letter from Orson Hyde, received here day before yesterday (Oct. 7th) from Salt Lake. Another Mormon has arrived here recently arrived, with an escort of thirty men, from Salt Lake, and where his letter was written to a brother Mormon here, Mr. L. He writes that he left Salt Lake just two days after the unfortunate emigrant train passed that place, and overtook them in time to save the children remaining alive—fifteen infants only; that the bodies of 118 persons—men, women and children—were lying upon the ground, a prey to the buzzards. Many of whom were of the "back out order," who had joined the California emigrant train for security in traveling. Hyde writes that he learned from the settlers in the vicinity of the place of massacre that the Indians fired upon the camp about two hours before day. Killing a large number, and then retreated. The emigrants then formed a corral with their wagons, and at daylight the Indians returned to the attack; but the fight lasted "two days," when the emigrants sent out a little girl, about twelve years old, with a flag of surrender; but she was killed, and the entire train destroyed, leaving the bodies upon the ground, which Orson Hyde himself counted, (118) he arriving at the spot just in time to gather up the Indian infants, which he brought in to San Bernardino. Hyde is going directly back to Salt Lake, and takes, per Brigham Young's order, a large number of Mormons with him. The recipient of the letter thinks the fate of the "back outs" just and merited. He informed don't believe it was the Indians he killed the emigrants.

About the average number of murders, robberies and casualties is chronicled by the California papers.

The Herald says:

We have also received an extra of the San Diego Herald, of the 5th October, from which we learn that the fifth overland mail from San Antonio, Texas, had arrived there on the evening of the 4th October, having made the trip in the extraordinary short time of twenty-six days and twelve hours, the shortest time on record. The mail came from the Pimo Village in 7 days and six hours, and from the Colorado river in forty-eight hours exactly.

From ORIZOBA we learn that the Constitutional Convention had adjourned. Two separate clauses one establishing slavery, and the other rejecting it, are to be submitted to the people. The subject is already undergoing sharp discussion, and the question was to be taken on the second Monday in November.

PANAMA.—The Star and Herald states that some negroes had made an attempt to assassinate Mr. Monsalve, editor of the Star, on part of that paper, but were frustrated in their design. The ringleader was arrested, but was set at liberty by a magistrate named Gutierrez.

The South Pacific mail had arrived at Panama, but brings nothing of importance from Chili. In Bolivia there are symptoms of a general revolution. Dr. Lenares has taken the field against the Constitutional President, Cordova, and calls himself provisional President. In Peru, the revolution is in statu quo, no decided progress having been made on either side.

HAVANA.—We have a single Havana paper of the 6th. It does not contain a syllable of news.

THE CHESS CONGRESS.—The New York Courier and Enquirer, of the 6th instant, contains the following interesting article relative to Paul Morphy:

The Chess Congress was virtually brought to a close last evening by Paul Morphy's winning the deciding game (the 10th) from Mr. Paulsen. Mr. Paulsen was suffering from a severe catarrh yesterday, and might with great propriety have requested a postponement of the contest; but he fought gallantly and yielded gracefully. Mr. Morphy won the game by the strong position of four pawns on the queen's side, one of which it was impossible for his adversary to prevent from passing to queen. After Mr. Paulsen had yielded, several of the most experienced players in the club undertook to better his play, but Mr. Morphy soon showed them all that his position was one he had decided it to be) impregnable. We do not admire Mr. Paulsen's playing less than we did before; but the event, and a more careful examination have convinced us that Mr. Morphy's abilities are of such an order that it will be difficult to find a master. Mr. Paulsen thoroughly understands the game, and has great power of analysis. He can foresee the remotest consequences of any move according to all the known combinations; but Mr. Morphy is so fertile in his resources and so original in his combinations that he continually discomfits his opponent, and satisfies the most experienced players. On Wednesday afternoon, for instance, he sacrificed his queen early in the game, in such a manner that all present abandoned hope for him, and Mr. Stanley declared that he ought to be put in the lunatic asylum. But the consequence of his seeming indiscreet recklessness was a check-mate to his adversary on the fifteenth move. Mr. Paulsen, however, merits all the acclamations that have been passed upon him, and his playing of five games blindfold is a feat so notable that it marks the limit of human skill, which the Chess Club is about to present to him. Mr. Morphy is supposed by the members of the Congress to be the first living player; and we understand that the American Chess Club will challenge Europe to produce a man to play with him next spring in New York for one or two thousand dollars. Mr. Morphy is about twenty years old, small, slightly built, with pale face, dark hair, full brow, and bright, quiet eyes expressing a highly nervous organization. We doubt that he will ever play better than he does now; for he plainly has a natural love for playing; and it is remarkable that all the great players—those who showed originality—have combined with it modesty, and their consciousness of it, at a very early age.

FIRE IN MOBILE.—The Tribune, of Thursday, has the following:

Last evening, between 11 and 12 o'clock, a fire broke out in the dwelling house on the corner of Adams and Claiborne streets. The fire engines were quickly on the spot, but it was impossible to stay the progress of the flames, and the building, with shed attached, was consumed. It is supposed to have been the work of an incendiary. The house belonged to Mr. John Heild, and it was unoccupied. An attempt was made on the night of the 15th of October last to burn the same place, which resulted in the destruction of a carpenter shop and stable.

CITY INTELLIGENCE.

ORLEANS THEATRE.—Mesdames Colson and Laloache appear this evening at the Orleans Theatre, the first in La Fille du Regiment, and the latter in Le Chalet. M. Vila, the new basso, also makes his appearance in the two pieces. We have no doubt that these artists will meet with as flattering reception this evening as on the last occasion, and very deservedly so. The engagement is a capital one, and we trust it will be fully patronized.

RECORDER ADAMS'S COURT.—E. J. Wallace, a Constabulary official, was held to bail yesterday in the sum of $500, to answer, next Monday, to a charge of assaulting and maliciously beating his slave woman, Zenkish.

Leon St Cary was fined $10 for being off beat, in violation of the city ordinance.

THE KILLING OF HOGAN.—The inquest on the body of John Hogan, who was shot last Tuesday evening by some one from on board the steamer Natchez, while lying at the levee, died at the Charity Hospital, was held yesterday. The following is the verdict: "Deceased came to his death from a pistol shot wound inflicted by some person or persons unknown to the jury, said shot having been fired from on board the steamer Natchez, on the evening of the 10th instant." Deceased was a native of Ireland, aged 45 years, and leaves a wife and children to mourn his untimely fate. The matter will be further investigated when the boat returns, as her officers must have witnessed the shooting.

WOMAN RUN OVER.—Mrs. Margaret Jourry was run over by a boy named Henry Hunter, as he was riding furiously by her while standing in front of her yard gate, and had a rib and arm broken. The boy escaped. The lad was arrested, but failed for want of bail. No. 34 Chartres street.

DEATH FROM WOUNDS.—An inquest was held at the Charity Hospital yesterday on the body of Antoine Regale, a native of France, 45 years of age. Verdict—Death from accidental fracture of the leg," which was crushed by his own dray passing over it some time since on the Levee.

Hostetter's Bitters.

At this season of the year, when the digestive organs are weakened and debilitated by a constant and over-use of vegetables and fruits, it is absolutely necessary that a good and pure tonic should be used to keep off chills and fever, together with a few stimulus will not be out of place, as the liquor-ing tonic, and we are fully satisfied there is nothing in the whole catalogue of medicine that will so all compare with Hostetter's Celebrated Bitters. We are glad to know that the principal drug stores in the city are supplied with Hostetter's great remedy.—Louisville Times.

Bail was put at the corner of Canal and St. Charles streets.

Peter Henry Lewis was held to bail in bonds of $1000, at the instance of Mr. Wm. Kline Lee, who resides at the corner of Franklin and Grav er streets, for an assault and battery, he having attacked a disgraceful and suspicious character, and the associate of thieves and vagrants.

RECORDER FABRE'S COURT.—Jules Maillevin was held to bail in the sum of $1000, on a charge of having, on Monday evening last, passed a counterfeit $20 bill, purporting to be of the issue of the "Canal Bank of Louisiana," upon a butcher named Pierre Duperrier.

The South Pacific mail had arrived at Panama, but brings nothing of importance from Chili. In Bolivia there are symptoms of a general revolution. Dr. Lenares has taken the field against the Constitutional President, Cordova, and calls himself provisional President. In Peru, the revolution is in statu quo, no decided progress having been made on either side.

HAVANA.—We have a single Havana paper of the 6th. It does not contain a syllable of news.

THE CHESS CONGRESS.—The New York Courier and Enquirer, of the 6th instant, contains the following interesting article relative to Paul Morphy:

The Chess Congress was virtually brought to a close last evening by Paul Morphy's winning the deciding game (the 10th) from Mr. Paulsen. Mr. Paulsen was suffering from a severe catarrh yesterday, and might with great propriety have requested a postponement of the contest; but he fought gallantly and yielded gracefully. Mr. Morphy won the game by the strong position of four pawns on the queen's side, one of which it was impossible for his adversary to prevent from passing to queen. After Mr. Paulsen had yielded, several of the most experienced players in the club undertook to better his play, but Mr. Morphy soon showed them all that his position was one he had decided it to be) impregnable. We do not admire Mr. Paulsen's playing less than we did before; but the event, and a more careful examination have convinced us that Mr. Morphy's abilities are of such an order that it will be difficult to find a master. Mr. Paulsen thoroughly understands the game, and has great power of analysis. He can foresee the remotest consequences of any move according to all the known combinations; but Mr. Morphy is so fertile in his resources and so original in his combinations that he continually discomfits his opponent, and satisfies the most experienced players. On Wednesday afternoon, for instance, he sacrificed his queen early in the game, in such a manner that all present abandoned hope for him, and Mr. Stanley declared that he ought to be put in the lunatic asylum. But the consequence of his seeming indiscreet recklessness was a check-mate to his adversary on the fifteenth move. Mr. Paulsen, however, merits all the acclamations that have been passed upon him, and his playing of five games blindfold is a feat so notable that it marks the limit of human skill, which the Chess Club is about to present to him. Mr. Morphy is supposed by the members of the Congress to be the first living player; and we understand that the American Chess Club will challenge Europe to produce a man to play with him next spring in New York for one or two thousand dollars. Mr. Morphy is about twenty years old, small, slightly built, with pale face, dark hair, full brow, and bright, quiet eyes expressing a highly nervous organization. We doubt that he will ever play better than he does now; for he plainly has a natural love for playing; and it is remarkable that all the great players—those who showed originality—have combined with it modesty, and their consciousness of it, at a very early age.

FIRE IN MOBILE.—The Tribune, of Thursday, has the following:

Last evening, between 11 and 12 o'clock, a fire broke out in the dwelling house on the corner of Adams and Claiborne streets. The fire engines were quickly on the spot, but it was impossible to stay the progress of the flames, and the building, with shed attached, was consumed. It is supposed to have been the work of an incendiary. The house belonged to Mr. John Heild, and it was unoccupied. An attempt was made on the night of the 15th of October last to burn the same place, which resulted in the destruction of a carpenter shop and stable.

CITY INTELLIGENCE.

ORLEANS THEATRE.—Mesdames Colson and Laloache appear this evening at the Orleans Theatre, the first in La Fille du Regiment, and the latter in Le Chalet. M. Vila, the new basso, also makes his appearance in the two pieces. We have no doubt that these artists will meet with as flattering reception this evening as on the last occasion, and very deservedly so. The engagement is a capital one, and we trust it will be fully patronized.

RECORDER ADAMS'S COURT.—E. J. Wallace, a Constabulary official, was held to bail yesterday in the sum of $500, to answer, next Monday, to a charge of assaulting and maliciously beating his slave woman, Zenkish.

THE KILLING OF HOGAN.—The inquest on the body of John Hogan, who was shot last Tuesday evening by some one from on board the steamer Natchez, while lying at the levee, died at the Charity Hospital, was held yesterday. The following is the verdict: "Deceased came to his death from a pistol shot wound inflicted by some person or persons unknown to the jury, said shot having been fired from on board the steamer Natchez, on the evening of the 10th instant." Deceased was a native of Ireland, aged 45 years, and leaves a wife and children to mourn his untimely fate. The matter will be further investigated when the boat returns, as her officers must have witnessed the shooting.

WOMAN RUN OVER.—Mrs. Margaret Jourry was run over by a boy named Henry Hunter, as he was riding furiously by her while standing in front of her yard gate, and had a rib and arm broken. The boy escaped. The lad was arrested, but failed for want of bail. No. 34 Chartres street.

DEATH FROM WOUNDS.—An inquest was held at the Charity Hospital yesterday on the body of Antoine Regale, a native of France, 45 years of age. Verdict—"Death from accidental fracture of the leg," which was crushed by his own dray passing over it some time since on the Levee.
