FRANCE AND ENGLAND.

The existing causes of irritation between France and England, another subject of discussion has been recently made the allusion to the occupation by the English of the island of Perim, a barren, rocky island at the opening of the Red Sea, through which the Red Sea discharges into the Arabian Gulf.—This island is well fortified by the English and during the period of the invasion of Egypt by Napoleon, but two years after he established it. We are told that some months ago the English detachment left Perim, they found the fortifications just as their grandfathers had left them.

Supposing that the possession of Perim by England would scarcely be considered a just cause of complaint by France, from its location, is important. It commands the Red Sea, and in the event of the opening of the isthmus of Suez, will be a hostile fleet from a transit of armament and expeditious [illegible] no question whatever that Great Britain in seizing and fortifying Perim, to control the navigation of the Red Sea, thus neutralize the disadvantage that may follow from the [illegible] proposed canal across the Isthmus. This view of the subject [illegible] vigilance of the French Empire and the Press contain [illegible] in emphatic language that the occupation of Perim by the English [illegible] arises the conduct of the Ottoman Empire, [illegible] of the liberty of the [illegible] that the French press is [illegible] that the Isle of Perim [illegible] is only to an undoubted title; [illegible] of the island by England [illegible] to stop proceeding to fortify [illegible] in order to insure [illegible] of the Red Sea, [illegible] the trade with India. The [illegible]

Will [illegible] be made? will [illegible] maxim, "Ce qui [illegible] garder", to be pre[illegible]? The American brig Cortes, seized a short time since by a British gun-boat, is held not to be equal prize to these police officers of the ocean.

SUMMARY OF THE FORTNIGHT'S NEWS.

State.

There has been a great amount of rain during the fortnight—probably nearly four inches—and it has visited all parts of the State. Before the rain, a severe drought had been felt in all the southern counties, and much harm was done to the crops—the grain in some places looking quite yellow while the stalks were scarcely six inches high.

About the 20th ult. there was a heavy frost, which did serious injury to the young fruit, and there is danger that the peach orchards from Red Bluffs to Santa Cruz will furnish little fruit this year.

An effort is making to have the capital of the State removed to Oakland.

The Assembly has been under consideration a bill to prohibit the immigration of free negroes.

The Legislature has passed and the Governor has signed a bill to confirm the titles to land made by the Fund Commissioners of this city.

The people of the town of Mariposa are making an effort to drive the Chinese from their place. Many of the citizens have signed a paper pledging to have no more to do with the Chinese, and to let no houses to them; but the paper is not to be binding unless all the citizens sign.

A young man named Heath murdered an Indian at Los Angeles, about the 10th ult., by shooting him with a rifle—the muzzle against his breast—while asleep. Heath has been arrested.

Henry A. Bush was shot and killed near Sacramento, on the 26th ult., by John Keller. The difficulty had its origin in jealousy on the part of Keller, who says that Bush tried to induce his wife to leave him.

D. E. Henderson was shot and mortally wounded in Sacramento, on the 22d ultimo, by John Black, during an affray between the latter and John Keenan. Henderson was a quiet spectator at the time.

There was a fire in Vallejo on the night of the 20th ult. R. Bunker and J. Barry were lodgers in the house, but we have not been able to learn the name of a single person supposed to be drowned.

The Ocean Spray was owned by Captain Marsh, and was about one year old—a new and very fine boat. She cost $42,000, and was, at the time of her loss, valued at $35,000. Insured in Pittsburg offices for $35,000.

The Keokuk was two years old, owned by the Keokuk Packet Company, valued at $35,000, and insured against fire, in offices in the city, for $15,000. She had been taken up to the vicinity of the Powder Magazine, to be more secure against fire than she could be at the landing, in company with other laid up boats.

WASHINGTON, April 21.—The steamer Fulton, which proceeded from Key West to Tampico ten days ago, was under special orders to protect American property in that quarter, in accordance with a request from the State to the Navy Department, based on the representations of our Consul at Tampico.

All the midshipmen who passed examination several days ago, at Annapolis, have been ordered into active service.

THE REVOLUTION IN CARACAS.—New York, April 21.—Advices have been received from Caracas of the 31st ult. The overthrow of Monagas is complete, and his abandonment or execution is clamored for. Placards are posted giving a list of the robberies perpetrated under the late administration, amounting to over $17,000,000. It is reported that the American Minister has advised Monagas to declare Caracas a state of siege, and blockade dictator. The whole diplomatic corps will probably receive their congé from the provisional government.

---

THE FIVE-MILLION LOAN BILL IN MINNESOTA. Chicago, April 28.—The majority for the five million loan bill in Minnesota will probably exceed twenty thousand.

Staub, who murdered Lansoman in December last, was executed to-day.

ARREST OF AN ALLEGED FORGER.—Worcester, (Mass.) April 20.—H. D. Stone, who was arrested in Springfield on Saturday for forgeries in this city, was held in bail to-day in the sum of $2000. He was also arrested for debts amounting to $70,000, and in default of bail to the amount of $100,000, was committed to jail. The case is one of much interest.

The Schoharie Republican, a Democratic paper, has two editors. One of the two has just received the appointment worth $3000 a year, and the other is a private citizen. The editor-in-chief is, of course, a Locompton man, and the private citizen is an anti-Lecompton man. Mother being willing to yield on both, they are fighting out the battle in their own paper, in parallel columns. They are getting on famously up two columns, but how they are making their paper a very fair miniature of the Democratic party.—Frontier.

FRAUD.—We had information yesterday that a bilking event occurred in the Liberty car on the Second district road. We have not the particulars, but we learn that one Mr. Orr had his pocket picked in Gravier Street, of $600, or ten dollars less than the amount of his sale. The thief, or pickpocket, has left the State in the contiguous country, and further north all reputation is probably destroyed.—Mobile Mercury.

WASHINGTON, April 21.

The instructions to Commissioner Reed have been made public.

The Secretary of State informs him that the objects which it is understood the proposed Embassy to Baghdad either seek to accomplish by treaty stipulations are recognized by the President as just and expedient, and, so far as may be, by peaceful co-operation, he expects you will aid in their accomplishment. In conformity with this policy, you will communicate frankly with the British and French ministers upon all points of common interest, so that it may be distinctly understood that the three nations are equally interested by the same motives to obtain justice, and by the desire of procuring freely arrangements for the extension and more adequate protection of their commercial intercourse with China. On your side these efforts must be confined to firm representation, appealing to the justice and policy of the Chinese authorities, and leaving your own government to determine upon the course to be adopted should your representation be fruitless. Special reference is made in your communications to the Ministers of Great Britain and France, not only for the purpose of concert with them in relations, in the trade of China and in the means suggested for its extension, but because they possess the great powers of the world have diplomatic representatives at that Court. It is understood, however, that Russia, which has long been represented at Pekin by ecclesiastics of religion, has attempted recently to secure the reception there of a Minister, and you are empowered to aid the establishment with that young and rising republic, whose commerce is so valuable, and which is now on the eve of war with Peru, her more powerful neighbor, Buenos Ayres, which circumstance would render ungracious in us to send a hostile message at its present juncture.

The special order, viz: The Deficiency bill, then came up, thereby deferring further consideration of the Kansas bill.

Mr. Fessenden's amendment to the Deficiency bill was then debated.

House.—Mr. Letcher, from the select committee, made a report with a bill for the establishment of a bureau for printing, binding, engraving, lithographing and electrotyping, which, together with the minority report, proposing amendments to the present law, was referred to the Committee of the Whole on the state of the Union.

Mr. Boyce called up the report of the Committee on Elections in the Nebraska case, concluding with a resolution that Fenner, the sitting delegate, and Chapman, the contestant, have further time—sixty days—for taking and returning supplementary testimony.

The resolution was amended, extending the time for taking testimony to the first of October, and passed in Committee of the Whole on the state of the Union.

During the discussion Mr. Giddings asked Mr. Cobb when the Kansas committee will report?

Mr. Cobb replied, when the conflicting difficulties existing between the Lecompton and anti-Lecompton Democrats become reconciled, in order that they may have power enough to settle the question.

The West Point Academy bill was finally passed. Adjourned.

STEAMBOAT CONFLAGRATION.—The St. Louis Republican of the 23d furnishes particulars of the destruction by fire of the steamboats Ocean Spray and Keokuk, mention of which was made by telegraph a few days ago. The Ocean Spray caught fire about five miles from St. Louis, and was headed for the shore, where, on reaching, she came in contact with the steam packet Keokuk, and communicated the flames to her. The Keokuk was burnt to the water's edge. The Republican says:

The Ocean Spray was at the shore, probably two minutes, when her starboard wheel fell into the water, and the boat floated out into the stream. During this brief interval many of her passengers, it is hoped nearly all, escaped by jumping from the burning boat to the shore, and into the water, from which they were afterwards rescued. Some, however, remained on board after the boat floated out into the stream, and were seen to jump overboard, as the only means left of saving their lives. It is feared that some of these have been lost, but we have not been able to learn the name of a single person supposed to be drowned.

The Ocean Spray was owned by Captain Marsh, and was about one year old—a new and very fine boat. She cost $42,000, and was, at the time of her loss, valued at $35,000. Insured in Pittsburg offices for $35,000.

The Keokuk was two years old, owned by the Keokuk Packet Company, valued at $35,000, and insured against fire, in offices in the city, for $15,000. She had been taken up to the vicinity of the Powder Magazine, to be more secure against fire than she could be at the landing, in company with other laid up boats.

A BOLT OF FIRE.—The Boston Journal says: "As the New York and Worcester train, was passing Natick this morning, a ball of lightning struck the top of the car, and disappeared, ran along the telegraph wire, and exploded with a report as loud as a cannon. The crash was terrific, and was heard within a space of half a mile were shivered from top to bottom. The passengers on the train were prostrated with a ball of fire, which filled all the time in sight, and the explosion seemed as if beneath the cars. Had the train been moving at the time it must have been struck. The only cool man on the train was Mr. Waller, the conductor, who took the bolt as an every-day affair."

FIRE.—A fire broke out in an unoccupied wooden tenement on the rear side of 6th, near Louis street, between Warren and Dearborn streets, between 12 and 1 o'clock last night, and destroyed the small buildings before the progress of the flames could be arrested. The building in which the fire was first discovered as well also as that adjoining on the West, belonged to Mr. William Taylor, and was rented above to Arthur Taylor, an old creole, and the store, corner of Warren, occupied as a retail grocery establishment by Mrs. Lee—to Mr. Simon Frollichstein. One of Taylor's houses was occupied as the residence of himself and family; the other as a grocery of his servants. One only of Mr. Miller's houses was tenanted, we could not learn by whom. The Pontchartrain fire engine was in force, but owing to the scarcity of water could get but two streams to play at a time.—Mobile News.

CITY INTELLIGENCE.

THE AMPHITHEATRE.—A change of the programme of performances at the Amphitheatre is announced. The Marsh juveniles will appear this evening in a new gorgeous spectacle, founded on the magical story from the "Arabian Nights," entitled "Aladdin, or the Wonderful Lamp."

CONVICTED OF MURDER.—Joseph Lindsey was tried before Judge Hunt, of the First District Court, yesterday, and convicted of the murder of A. J. Wells, another of the crew of the Martha Rideout, on the 5th instant. Colonel Field argued for a continuance in the prisoner's behalf, on account of the alleged absence of two of his witnesses; but the Court refused to grant it after patiently hearing the arguments till the hour of noon. The trial proceeded about 3 o'clock, and lasted till nearly five in the afternoon. The jury were out but a few moments. The particulars of the murder have been reported in the paper at the time it was committed, and were too fully expressed upon the minds of the public to need repetition in detail. Lindsey, in company with other sailor boarding-house runners, boarded the vessel at Slaughter House Point, when Lindsey took Wells by the throat, and struck him on the face, because he did not like his manner or to where he intended to board. Ellis prevented him, and better not try it, wanting of a blow from Lindsey, that was followed by him so that he died soon after from the effects of the wound. Lindsey escaped for a time by means of his skiff, but was arrested at night by Lieutenant Leggett, of the Third District. The witnesses for the prosecution were all sailors, of the Martha Rideout, who have been detained in prison ever since the murder was committed.

TRADE OF CERTAIN FACTORS.—Isaac Jourdan, of Issaka county, Mississippi, was this morning committed yesterday, after examination before Recorder Stith, to the First District Court for trial on the charge of having obtained $7064, by means of false pretenses, from Wallace & Boubleu, cotton factors of this city.

It appears that in April last the prisoner, then a stranger, presented himself at the office of the firm and represented (misrepresented, as is too often the case in New Orleans) that he was the owner of considerable unincumbered property in Mississippi, and that he desired acceptances, in consideration of which he would ship the firm not only his own cotton, but the crops of some of his neighbors, which he would be enabled to control. The firm have had to meet their acceptances without any consideration whatever from the accused. These acceptances, say the firm, were made for the accommodation of the prisoner, because Mr. Jourdan would not have accepted for him without relying fully on these representations, nor would he have done so without corroborative statement of other firms, one of which told us that the accused was worth $60,000.

The Recorder, however, has come to the conclusion that these obtaining acceptances which had afterwards to be met by the acceptors themselves, was virtually obtaining money within purview of the statute of prohibition provided in such cases. He therefore committed the accused to the First District Court for trial, fixing his bail at $5,000.

This case deserves further notice to be heeded by others; for nothing can be more painful to the feelings than to be dragged before the criminal courts of the land, and a name and acts paraded, in consequence, before the public. We hope this will be the last case of the kind which we shall find it our public though painful duty to notice.

AGAINST JOCKLEBY.—Messrs. Spalding & Rogers, through their counsel, have filed a petition before Judge Price, of the Fourth District Court, in which they obtain damages of one Fulgian and another "Dorneng," known as "Chinese Sword-eater, somewhere about St. Charles street," and complain that the said "Fulgian and Dorneng, both non-residents of this State, but at present in the city of New Orleans, have procured to have acquired the right of lease to the store No. 99 St. Charles street, directly under the said petitioners' rooms, and proceeded to furnishing the public with a valuable preparation for the cure of Fever and Ague. The said Fulgian and Dorneng, who are at best but sub-lessees of the petitioners, would have it in their power to carry on the mining them in their own establishment. Rich, decidedly!

DAMAGES AWARDED.—Judge R. K. Howell, of the Sixth District Court, gave a decision yesterday, awarding the plaintiffs the sum of $625, value of the contents of a trunk that was on board of the steamer Princeton, on which she exploded on the Red River last fall. The trunk, by some misapprehension, was put off at Shreveport, and when received again by the owners, Capt. Young, Bridge, &c., was found to be empty. Hence the suit, eminently proper to be arraigned before Recorder Stith this morning.

COURTESY OF COURT.—Abel. Lea, a pound keeper of the Third District, was imprisoned on Tuesday by order of Recorder Solomon, for contempt of Court. The Recorder had ordered some animals to be released without payment of pound fees, and Lea for talking had to be fined $5, was sent to prison for twenty-four hours.

COMMITTED TO THE CRIMINAL COURT.—William Thomas was examined before Recorder Stith yesterday, and committed to the First District Court for trial on a charge of having stolen a pocket-book, and of subsequently entering the latter's room in the night time. The accused was sent to prison in default of bail.

Thomas Morisey was examined before Recorder Stith, and also committed for trial upon the charge of having struck Jane Doe, with whom he had been on the worst of terms for some time, charging him with having drawn a pistol and attempted to shoot her, while she was living at Mr. Dudley's, on Canal street, on the evening of the 19th of April.

Thomas Ryan was committed for trial for committing an assault and battery on Mr. A. Fokkman; and Isaac Jourdan, elsewhere noticed, of Issaka county, Mississippi, for committing fraud to the prejudice of Messrs. Wallace & Boubleu, cotton factors of this city.

CHARGED WITH BIGAMY.—The matter of Guillaume Roquentin, charged on two separate affidavits with a breach of trust to the prejudice of Antoine Moral, and with stealing $210 from the latter's residence, was inquired into yesterday by Assistant Recorder Hollins, so far as to have the accused discharged, and held—$5 each—for withdrawing his affidavits.

H. Hendricks was also discharged as being a party wrongfully accused of having committed an assault and battery on O. Bruns.

One of the Most Prevalent,

And at the same time most painful diseases that assail the human flesh is the Fever and Ague. For a long time the medical world has been continually bringing forth numerous specifics for its possessed cure; but all without effect. Dr. J. Bonsfort, the well-known physician of Louisville, has succeeded in furnishing the public with a valuable preparation for the cure of Fever and Ague. The cures which are now being effected daily by this remedy are truly astonishing. Read the following:

"HISTORY," and the universal success attending it was, have led to its exposition, accompanied by any specific of the kind. For the cure of the Fever and Ague, Dr. Hostetter's celebrated Stomach Bitters must and should claim a superiority over any other preparation extant.
