EDUCATION.

Jacques Auchincloss,
93 BOURBON STREET, NEW ORLEANS.
CONDUCTED BY J. S. LOEB.

THE plan of this Institution comprises a primary and commercial education for boys. Pupils are admitted at six or seven years of age, and can continue until their education is complete, or till they are prepared for their future pursuits in life.

They are distributed into classes according to their talents and advancement.

The pupils are perhaps the best to be found in the city, with ample space for exercise and recreation every necessary convenience is combined for the administration of learning on a large scale.

The Professors are gentlemen of talents, whose zeal is with great care. Good order reigns in the establishment, and strict attention is paid to the moral conduct and improvement of the pupils.

DAY AND BOARDING SCHOOL
FOR YOUNG LADIES,
UNDER THE DIRECTION OF
MADAM CHARPAUX,
At the corner of Bayou and Esplanade streets.

THIS SEMINARY, whose existence dates some six years back, has met with a success that proves, beyond all cavil, the capacity of those who have the direction of it.

Determined to merit the confidence of parents, Mad. Charpaux wrings no pains to render her seminary equal to the best institutions of the kind in this country, and in order to do this, she has employed the means and in order to do this, she has employed the services of Madam Charpaux has purchased a large and airy edifice on one of the most healthy parts of the city, and the better to consult the wealth of her pupils she has had spacious and elevated apartments built on purpose for school and lodging rooms, through which there will be a constant circulation of air from many windows.

Grammatization will be paid to the improvement of scholars in the English language. For the purpose, American ladies of undoubted capacities will be engaged, as will constantly reside in the seminary.

The English, French and Spanish languages, geography, arithmetic, and in short all the branches of a polite education, will be taught in the Seminary.

As religion should be the foundation of all sound education, it will be carefully attended to by Madam Charpaux, who will conduct to church and preliminary catechisms all her young ladies who may be of the first communion to make.

Music having become a most desirable branch of the education of young ladies, Mad. Charpaux, from the best musical school in Paris, and ex-artist of the New Orleans Theatre, will devote all his time to teaching music. All the scholars, under their regular lessons, will practice daily under the eyes of the professor. The study of the notes will precede the performance. The professor will put the pupils through the exercises of the regular keys and notes, and this will be attended with success.

In order to kindle emulation among the pupils, and improve their RISING, on the morning of the last Saturday in every month, there will be a musical examination and a distribution of rewards.

Madam Charpaux, in order to complete the education of her scholars, has opened a class where will be taught all the useful and ornamental branches of needle work.

During the summer the classes will open at 8 o'clock, and close at 3. Re-open at 4 and close at 6 o'clock, P. M. During winter will open at 8½, and close at 3. Re-open at 4½ and close at 6 o'clock, P. M.
