WHAT OF MEXICO. It is perhaps scarcely fair to judge of the feet Buchanak's message from the cagre epitome furnished by the telegraph, at the view taken of the Mexican question that decimient happens to be so explicit of intelligent as to preclude the suspicion at the telegraph has materially curtailed it married its sense. The President, we are distinguished and the respective properties of the propert i.d., after referring to the distracted country of Merco, says that, were it not for the hope of obtaining outree from the approaching 1, wer of the Liberal party, he would recommend taking possession of a portion of the Mercoan territory sufficient to indemnify us, and settle the chain of private officers against that republic. He likewise urges the establishment of military posts in Sonora and thinahus, as a means of preventing aggressins on our territory. There can be no mission-derivation of the many words, propose to select an object of the mercoan territory. There can be no mission-derivation of the many words, propose to select and bold temporarily or permanently any port of the Mexican republic, in satisfaction of the wrongs indicted by the government of that country on American citizens, because he bijes that the prospective triumph of the Liberal party will ensure the peaceful actificated of existing difficulties. Nevertheless he proposes a half-way measure in recommending the establishment in Sonora and tanhanus of military posts, as a means of protecting adjacent American territory from encroan bieness to state the measage fails to meet the point. The triumph of the Liberal party

Mexico a ready to offer it, the fabled Greek Kylenda will come and go, and we shall be still found patient waiters upon Providence. The system of processituation has been the bane of our diplomacy in all our transactions with the so-called republics of North America. We were not without lings that the exposituations of the press in every direction, the repeated outages committed on the persons and property of American readdents in Mexico, and the strong manifestation of the press and repeated outages committed on the popular sentiment in favor of a more primpi and vigorous course, would have included the President to break through the gives and letters of odd, all reference, and to top, pose a motion a tength's and decisive. We regret to say that he is almost as milking waterish as ever.

It is true there is in the message one specific recommendation, to with the establishment of infiltray posts in Shours and Chinabius. But this is simply a proposition to a situation to the order time of both those states, on the border line of both those States id being extremely rich in mineral treasure nering a me held by agreement agreement agreement advantage of our population a and Clebuahua, on the contrary, to stary in tunder the immediate superive in clour troops. Now there is a method to income the committee of the committee of proposed to the committee of place of the committee of place of the committee of place of the committee of the various committees of the various committe seize and annex them-nay, with more, for such an act would be one of lawful retainston for a thousand wrongs and injuries. Rey uponit, the only feasible mode of extrication from the Mexican embrogho is to act to dip, expeditionally and residutely. To ex-pect ristice from Mexico by exchanging

The weather has undergone a radical an highy agreeable change-from mudde, mursy and warm, to clear, screen and bracingly cold. This is our normal winter weather. Long may it last.

THE CIECUS.—The lowers of circus amusements were after to such delights last even n.ng, when there was a dine house to see the nights at the Amphitheatre. The half-hour we were present satisfied us that the con pany, so far as changes have been made, peny, as har as changes have been have, is an improvement in some of its features upon the one which was so successful list season. The clowin, bdy Fay, was hoved in many of heyex d'espai, and is superior, we think, to any jester we have yet had in the ringlitue Kate Ormond has grown some, but not enough to present her from being as interesting a print equestic of the troupe as ever, his is a little prettler, and gives us the "Highland Fling" and shows the "poetry of moto-si" charmingly. The nautical scena in equitation, by Nathandels, as the drunken salter on horseback, and the gymnastics of the troupe were good; but more anon, when we shall have seen more of the company.

Pricrosis Vanisties.—Shakapeare's comedy "Much Ado about Nothing" was reimprovement in some of its features upo Priction's Varieties...-Shakspeare's comedy "Much Ado about Nothing" was reproduced before another good audience at the theatre has night. In the expressions of dissembling love, Mr. Jordan was a rather "taking" Benedict, and Mrs. Boyce quite a falcious leatine. That Chinese Pas dr. Tove, by the dearence Misses A. and H. Gale and Miss Jackson, was an amusing and to judge from the applisue of the audience, a most capital Ast—the most decided of the dissersers. M'lle Zie included, are pretty in person, graceful in motion, and necessarily expiritating in all their res gester, and particularly when making the strong poses and assuming the faccinating poses of most for the price beyond.
