THE DAILY BEE. FRIDAY MORNING, MARCH 11.

Scarcely can we open a newpaper from any part of the country without finding an article in relation to the recent Washington tragedy. The subject is discussed under every conceivable sapect. The amount of provocation; the nature of the venguance wraked by the injured hasband; the policy of his ceptucit; its consequences upon himself and his family; the moral and religious phases of the deed—all are made themes for controversy and disputation. The conclusions of journalists are as various as the opinions of mankind. It is indeed faille to anticipate unanimity of view touching an action of this kind, especially when it is regarded from different stand-points by almost every individual. One man will, maintain that Mr. Bucklas was perfectly right in killing Kry, and could not have acted otherwise without subjecting himself to opprobrium and dishonor; while another, with equal plausibility, will argue that Mr. Bucklas should morphist by almost

The Highest Soveano Norz.—A discussion is going on in the English papers as to the highest note reached by any soprano singer.

Jenny Lind can sing to F in alt.; Madame Faure and Viardot Garcia to D sharp, while a triend of Madame Gassier avers that that lady sings up to G. in alt. If this be so, Madame G. beare away the pain from her competitors. La Grange has sung to F, and probably can do F sharp. At the time when Hayda composed the "Creation," the sustained C for the soprano in the air "Thy marvelous works," was desemed something astonishing. In Verdi's music, D flat or C sharp very seten occurs, and in the finsies of concerted picces, where E flat or D is the concluding note, many singers are fond of taking the octure.
