

The New Orleans Bee.

NEW ORLEANS, TUESDAY MORNING, JULY 10, 1860.

Vol. XVII—New Series. Vol. XXXI.—Whole No. 11,722.

Miss. 73 Chartres street.

BY TELEGRAPH.

TRANSMISSION TO THE NEW ORLEANS BEE.

The question of the Bank up to date has been referred to our paper, and we have no objection to it.

One thousand dollars in all sums to 200 dollars.

ANOTHER LETTER FROM THE SOUTH.

By Mr. Roger A. Collier, of New York, of the New York Tribune, on his return from Europe, and upon his arrival, he said:

"The Sheriff made a speech to-day, at a public meeting, in which he said that he had received orders from the War Department to arrest all persons who were engaged in the Southern cause."

WEAK ARRIBALDE.

That old and high-minded journal—the Charleston Mercury—is in a recent article on "The Southern Whigs" making some astute remarks which are applicable to us, either, here, or in the South. It says:

"That the 'Political Opposition' has lost its members, and has failed to represent popular sentiment in all parts of the United States."
