MARINE NEWS.

Port of New Orleans, Sept. 6, 1869.

CLEARED YESTERDAY.

Steamer Mary Boone, Jones, Liverpool, Grocery & Peanut Co.
Steamer Ben Thomas, Thomas, Port Hudson, Grocery & Peanut Co.

ARRIVED YESTERDAY.

Steamer Mary Boone, from Indianola and Galveston.
Steamer Ben Thomas, from Port Hudson.

DEPARTURES.

Steamer Ben Thomas, for Port Hudson.
Steamer Mary Boone, for Indianola and Galveston.

PASSENGERS.

For Indianola and Galveston—Mrs. Wm. Wilson, Mrs. Wm. Wilson and child, from Victoria.
For Port Hudson—Mrs. Thomas, from Bayou Sara.

COMMERCIAL.

OFFICE OF THE TIMES,
Monday Evening, Sept. 6, 1869.

The demand for COTTON has been moderate during the week, and the receipts have been light, but we quote under a decline of ¼c. per pound.

LIVERPOOL, Aug. 28—Cotton—Sales of the week, 70,000 bales; speculation and export, 10,000 bales; stock, 1,000,000 bales, including 400,000 bales American. Sales to-day, 10,000 bales; speculation and export, 2,000 bales; American, 7,000 bales. Middling Orleans, 12½d.; Middling Uplands, 12d.; Low Middling Orleans, 12d.; Low Middling Uplands, 11½d.; Good Ordinary Orleans, 11½d.; Good Ordinary Uplands, 11d.; Ordinary Orleans, 11d.; Ordinary Uplands, 10½d.

The receipts of COTTON at this port to-day were 1,000 bales, against 1,000 bales last Monday, 1,000 bales the Monday previous, and 1,000 bales the Monday before that. The receipts for the week ending to-day were 5,000 bales, against 5,000 bales last week, 5,000 bales the week previous, and 5,000 bales the week before that. The receipts for the month ending to-day were 20,000 bales, against 20,000 bales last month, 20,000 bales the month previous, and 20,000 bales the month before that. The receipts for the year ending to-day were 1,000,000 bales, against 1,000,000 bales last year, 1,000,000 bales the year previous, and 1,000,000 bales the year before that.

The exports of COTTON to-day were 1,000 bales, against 1,000 bales last Monday, 1,000 bales the Monday previous, and 1,000 bales the Monday before that. The exports for the week ending to-day were 5,000 bales, against 5,000 bales last week, 5,000 bales the week previous, and 5,000 bales the week before that. The exports for the month ending to-day were 20,000 bales, against 20,000 bales last month, 20,000 bales the month previous, and 20,000 bales the month before that. The exports for the year ending to-day were 1,000,000 bales, against 1,000,000 bales last year, 1,000,000 bales the year previous, and 1,000,000 bales the year before that.

The stock of COTTON on hand at this port to-day was 1,000 bales, against 1,000 bales last Monday, 1,000 bales the Monday previous, and 1,000 bales the Monday before that. The stock on hand to-day was 5,000 bales, against 5,000 bales last week, 5,000 bales the week previous, and 5,000 bales the week before that. The stock on hand to-day was 20,000 bales, against 20,000 bales last month, 20,000 bales the month previous, and 20,000 bales the month before that. The stock on hand to-day was