Further News from Southern Sources.

The Picayune published yester morning additional advices obtained from late Mississippi papers up to the 3d inst. We copy the following from the Picayune's gleanings.

COMMANDER MAURY'S MISSION.

The Chattanooga Rebel says:

Capt. M F. Maury has gone abroad, not upon a diplomatic mission, but to take command of an iron clad cruiser. The South will hear of his exploits before long.

ANOTHER COMMISSIONER.

The Richmond Dispatch announces that Mr. Oliver, entrusted by the Confederate states Government with a mission of importance to Europe, has succeeded in running the blockade, and is now on the high seas.

Mr. Wm Yerger has introduced into the Senate of the Mississippi Legislature a preamble and resolution instructing the Judiciary Committee to report a bill which will provide for the payment of cotton destroyed by order of the Confederate Government.

The Mississippian says that the Federal troops have destroyed the buildings on the plantation of the Hon. A. G. Brown, Confederate Senator from that State. Mr Burnett and family fled to Milton, North Carolina, where they now reside.

THE OPENING FIGHT NEAR VICKSBURG.

We extract the following from their correspondence of the Mississippian, dated Chickasaw Bayou, December 27:

The ball opened here in good earnest. At an early hour this morning, the enemy advanced in considerable force north of west and south of west of Lake's quarters. So soon as they appeared in the latter direction, they were opened upon by one piece from Captain Wyatt's battery, who found their range at the first fire. The enemy very promptly and vigorously replied, and for about an hour their missiles came in close proximity to our men. After accomplishing our purpose of drawing out the enemy, and ascertaining the strength, we withdrew from the rifle pits and took an excellent position to welcome their approach. And they did approach, with artillery, cavalry and infantry, and they were welcomed with smoke and shot. The engagement was a lively one, and lasted half an hour. It was not a general affair reckoning it (if it can be termed only a heavy "skirmish," but from the manner in which the balls whistled in the vicinity of our correspondent, he came to the conclusion that we were having quite a little battle of it. Colonel Withers commanded our skirmishers, and was everywhere cheering and inciting the boys of the Seventeenth Louisiana (Colonel Richardson) to deeds of daring.

A few of our men were killed and wounded, though it seems a miracle that more were not injured. It was perfectly refreshing to see how our boys rallied, yelled and blazed away, and how its different they were to the storm of leaden hail that poured around them until the shades of night put an end to the engagement.

Further on the night, Major Holmes paid his respects with light artillery to the enemy, who were landed in infantry and cavalry, on Chickasaw Bayou level. They were soon dispersed. Lieutenant Frank Johnston's section of Captain Ridley's battery did remarkably fine firing, and was complimented in the highest terms by Gen. Lee.

I learn that the enemy ascended the Yazoo to day as high as Blake's upper quarter, beyond the torpedo region, and shelled in the direction of our heavy batteries, killing one man at the latter place."

THE DEFENCE OF PORT HUDSON.

The Port Hudson News indulges in the following strain on the above subject:

Port Hudson, a modest little village, which would have followed the "even tenor of its way," and hitherto received merited attention, but for the great revolution of our country, is now destined to take its place, side by side, and hereafter will be associated with the Hill City in the defense of the Mississippi Valley, and the discomfiture of the invaders. What Vicksburg has done Port Hudson will do. The same heavy spirits which held the former as here to "do or die," and the same determination, the same valor and the same cause which urged on the defenders of Vicksburg, now actuate the troops of Port Hudson. They are all aware of the great responsibility resting upon them, and they know that all eyes are turned toward this point. In view of all these facts, added to the importance of holding Port Hudson, who will say that public expectations will be disappointed? Certainly no one who knows the metal of the veterans entrusted with the keeping of the place. Time and the opportunity only are wanting to make the name of Port Hudson worthy a place side by side on the annals of history with the ever glorious Hill City. Assuredly we will have her Vicksburg, and Louisiana her Port Hudson.

The Latest News.

The Picayune published last evening an extra, which contained the following intelligence:

Confederate Victory at Murfreesboro'. Gen. Bragg's Official Dispatch. Letter from Vicksburg—Yankees Raid Through Pendleton's Gap—Hindman Executes Ten Federal Officers—Another Raid by Stuart—European Intelligence.

We have received the Jackson Mississippian of the 2d inst., from which we take the following highly important intelligence. The Mississippian says:

We are indebted to Gen Joseph E. Johnston for a copy of the following dispatch, received by him from Gen. Bragg:

"Bragg attacked Rosecrans at 7 o'clock yesterday morning, and fought until sunset.

"All the enemy's troops were drive from their position except the extreme left.

"Our troops now occupy the battle field.

"We captured thirty one cannon, two hundred wagons and teams, and four thousand prisoners, including two Brigadier Generals."

FURTHER FROM MURFREESBORO'—HIGHTY EIGHT IN THE REAR OF ROSENCRANS.

Chattanooga, December 31.—Eighty eight Federal prisoners captured near Murfreesboro', were brought here last night. Seventy three more, with eight negroes, have just arrived on the evening train. The last party were captured yesterday by Gen. Wheeler, between Rosencrans's army and Nashville

Gen. Morgan has entered into Kentucky, having accomplished his object, is now in the rear of Rosencrans.

It is believed that Buford, Forrest and Morgan have joined Wheeler, making a force of fifteen thousand cavalry in the rear of the Federal army.

Dispatches received at 3 o'clock, P. M. to day, announce the repulse of the enemy with the loss of one of their batteries up to that hour.

Richmond, January 1.—The Nashville Union says that nearly one thousand families belonging to soldiers in the rebel service, are without food, clothing or wood. Five hundred applications to go South have been filed at the Federal Department.

Chattanooga, December 31.—The Rebel has just received the following from Gov. Harris:

Murfreesboro', December 31.—We attacked the enemy in his position on the left at 6 A. M. Battle raged till 5 P. M. Our left wing drove the enemy's right back upon Stone river. Our advance was steady, but the resistance stubborn. We captured four batteries and about four thousand prisoners. Amongst them three Brigadier Generals. Loss heavy on both sides. Relative loss not known.

Gen. Raines, of Nashville, killed.

I. G. HARRIS.

LATEST FROM VICKSBURG—ENEMY SENDS FLAG TO BURY THE DEAD.

Vicksburg, January 1.—Chickasaw Bayou, January 1—10 o'clock, A. M., near Vicksburg.

The enemy sent a flag of truce yesterday by Colonel Lyon, of the Twenty second Kentucky regiment, requesting permission to bury their dead. They were granted four hours, from 1 to 5 o'clock, for that purpose. Their killed and wounded exceed our first estimates. Their total loss in killed, wounded and prisoners, amount to no less than 5,000. Ours will not reach 135. All quiet this morning.

FEDERAL RAID.

Knoxville, December 31.—The Federal cavalry, said to be about 4000 strong, made an incursion through Pendleton Gap, led by General S. Carter; the renegade of East Tennessee. They were said to be at Jonesboro' one hundred miles distant from this place, burned Hamilton, Watauga, railroad bridges, captured Col. Love, of Sixty second North Carolina regiment. Supposed to have destroyed Senator Haines's plantation and works in Saltville, in November.

General Kirby Smith ordered three regiments of cavalry to move from Murfreesboro' through Rowards Pound Gap, to watch the country north of Cumberland Mountain—countermanded by Bragg. He thinks we have force enough in East Tennessee to expel Carter.

Richmond, January 1.—The report that the English Government has demanded of the United States the recall of Commander Wilkes, is not credited in well informed circles.

HINDMAN EXECUTES TEN FEDERAL OFFICERS.

The papers of this morning have a report that Hindman has executed ten Federal officers, in retaliation for McNeil's brutality.

GREELEY'S POSITION.

Richmond, December 31.—Greeley's position is at last defined. The N. Y. Tribune publishes a long article on the disaster of the Federals and the defeat at Fredericksburg, as follows: "We are not about to surrender in the face of a single defeat. The purposes of the nation will remain unshaken. The war is not to be prosecuted. The only change is still to be pursued. The North will still uphold the Government and strengthen its hands. The spasm of despair has already released its hold on the native heart. The moment of doubt may cheer the rebellion, but our returning resolution shall finally crush it."

Wendell Phillips, in a late speech at Boston, said that eighteen months hence the West will desert the East and join her natural ally, who holds the mouth of the Mississippi. Phillips intimates that if the Democracy be successful there is danger in an alliance among twenty States; leaving New England in the cold.

Commenting on the speech of Phillips, the New York Mercury says: We believe that the last army the North will ever raise and put in the field in this war, is now in the field, and that it must conquer the rebellion, or fail, and if it fails, then the dissolution of the old Union will be accomplished. In that event, six States of New Eng and will find themselves left alone in their glory, and we are quite sure that no confederation of States of which she is a part can exist in peace, harmony and prosperity on the continent.

ADMIRAL WILKES RECALLED.

Richmond, December 31.—It is stated on the best authority that the British Government has formally demanded, and the United States has recalled Admiral Wilkes from his present station.

FROM NORTH CAROLINA.

An official report from Gen. G. W. Smith, commanding the Confederate troops in North Carolina, after giving a detailed account of the late battles, states our loss to be seventy one killed, two hundred and sixty eight wounded, and fifty one missing—the most of the latter were taken at Kingston Bridge, and have since been paroled.

Raleigh, December 31.—There is no truth in the report of an advance of the enemy from Newbern

Albermarle Sound was filled with Federal transports and gunboats.

EUROPEAN INTELLIGENCE.

Richmond, December 31.—The Europa, with Liverpool dates to the 19th, has arrived at Halifax.

The English emancipation society are issuing circulars and holding meetings and preaching sermons in support of the emancipation policy of Lincoln.

American vessels are being registered at Liverpool under British names.

Garibaldi's eldest son was mortally wounded in a duel with an Italian who objected his father attended the funeral of Cavour.

Consols closed in London on the 19th inst. at 92¾ to 93¾.

The Liverpool cotton market was buoyant, and prices advanced ⅛ to ¼ of a penny per pound on Middling and lower qualities. Stock on hand amounted to 400

ANOTHER RAID BY STUART.

Richmond, December 30.—Gen. J. E. B. Stuart, who crossed the Rappahannock a few days ago, has been successful.

Advices from Fredericksburg state that he destroyed a camp of the second brigade of Burnside's grand division, with all its stores, together with three caissons, seven wagons, and a large quantity of army and other stores, destroying what he could not bring away, besides taking 1500 to 2000 prisoners. It is reported that he captured two pieces of artillery. A portion of the prisoners have arrived at Gordonsville, and will be brought down in the morning.

The expedition was in all respects successful.

RELIEF FOR THE FREDERICKSBURG SUFFERERS.

The City Council of Petersburg have appropriated $1 000 for the relief of the sufferers of Fredericksburg.

Inauguration Day in South Carolina—Address of the Retiring Governor.

The following is the address of Governor Pickens, delivered upon the occasion of General M. L. Bonham's inauguration as Governor of South Carolina:

Gentlemen of the Senate and

House of Representatives:

It is difficult to find fit language in which to express my feelings on this occasion.

Two years ago, when I was sworn into office at that desk, clouds and darkness rested upon the future. Since then, the State has passed through the severest trials to which a people can be subjected.

It was supposed by some that, in an appeal to arms, there might be division amongst us; but that appeal has been made, and thank God! to-day across the river, and who has long managed to flash about in the enjoyment of ill-gotten gaud and abundance. If at is this party, she has been understood for a long time to be working with a gang of similar character, taking advantage of whatever came in their way. We understand that Mr. Waterman will give a large reward for the restoration of the property and the conviction of the thieves. It is to be hoped that he will be successful.

The Knife—Oscar Russell was arrested on Dauphin street, in the Second District, yesterday, by officer Ruff, on the charge of stabbing Mitchel Poch with intent to kill him. We have no particulars of the affair.

Unauthorized—Alvares Waldo was arrested in the Second District last evening, on the charge of opening fire plugs without authority.

Assault with Intent to Kill—Mrs. Bashet and Mary Lewis were arrested in the Second District yesterday, under a warrant from the Provost Court, on the charge of having assaulted Mrs Kreck with intent to kill her.

Violating an Ordinance—Mike O'Shaughnessy was arrested on St. Charles street yesterday morning, on the charge of leaving his team standing without being near enough himself to control them, or having anybody else to do so. A city ordinance prescribes a penalty against teamsters who remove beyond a certain distance from their animals. It will be well for furniture cart, draymen, and in fact drivers of other vehicles to bear this in mind, or they will find themselves in Mike's position.

Accessory to Robbery—Richard, a slave belonging to Mr. Fernandez, was arrested yesterday morning on Canal street, on the charge of being accessory to a robbery. We have no particulars as to what is the case in which he is concerned.

Robberies—Corporal Leon reports that the house of Mr. Pinter, No. 23 St. Andrew street, was entered last night and pocket book stolen from the bedroom. It contained four $5 bills of the Bank of Louisiana, three $20 bills of the same bank, some twenty or thirty dollars in cut bills, and other bills of the Merchants' Bank to the amount of $11 50.

Mr. Joshua reports that the laundry of his premises, at the corner of St. Mary and St. Charles streets, was entered and plundered of valuable articles of ladies' apparel and gentlemen's underclothing.

Belligerent Negro Urchins—William, a negro boy belonging to Mr Greenwood, Jos. belonging to Dr Tucker, and Beak, belonging to Mr. Gragg, were arrested on Canal street, on the charge of carrying concealed weapons and threatening to shoot some newspaper boys. Each of the fellows had a pistol.

Cutting with a Penknife—Lizzie Wilson was arrested on Dauphin street, on Tuesday night, on the charge of cutting Mary Scott with a penknife. The wounds was inflicted on the hand. It is not serious.

Against Ordinance—Fritz Hackenbery was arrested in the Fourth District, on Tuesday, on the charge of driving on the wrongwork of the levee in violation of city ordinance.

Dangerous—The bridge at the corner of Claiborne and Elysian Fields streets is reported in a dangerous condition to cross in the dark.

The Wounded—Mr Street, who attempted suicide some time since, is rapidly improving. As we announced yesterday, the wounded Candelmas, or Stella, were not immediately dangerous, and are progressing well. Patrick Barker is approaching recovery. No of others.

We understand, also, that Savage, so murderously assaulted and robbed in Jefferson City, as we reported at the time, is fast getting out of danger. No arrests have yet been made in connection with his case.

Rape on Nymph—Ellen Bennett was arrested in Perdido street, on Tuesday night, on the charge of stealing the sum of $15 from John Chevrie, who by some means placed it within her reach.

Suspicious—Owen O'Donnell was arrested on Tchoupitoulas street, in the First District, yesterday morning, on the charge of being a deserter and a dangerous and suspicious character

Support Stolen Goods—Reuben Washington was arrested in the Third District on Tuesday on the charge of having in his possession a number of machinery, supposed to have been stolen.

Peasant Court—Judge Peabody—Martha Johnson and Fanny Merriam were discharged from an accusation of robbing John Pickrell of $50 on one occasion, and of $30 on another. Mrs Johnson intimated that the money she lately was plundered by the unpleasant one occasion, as he alleged, and went back again to subject himself to this same operation he deserved what he got, and ought now to have a guardian appointed over him to prevent him from a repetition of such folly.

Sarah Bell, who claims to be a free colored woman, and alleges that she is at present detained in a dungeon in the Parish Prison in the presence of her being a slave, was ordered to be brought before the Court this morning that an examination may be made into the case.

Charlotte Mahan, one of the delicate habitués of Perdido street, charged with having conveniently possessed herself of $5 at the expense of one of her visitors, named Josiah Barker, was discharged.

A soldier was fined $5 for disturbing the peace in the Academy of Music on Tuesday evening.
