Propost Court Posteript.—Corporal Jennings appeared yesterday, in full energy, in prosecution against John Maglione, who, purchasent be pit of the stomach. The accused was sent to priso for the term of waster months.

John Stawart and — White were tried on the charge of stealing from Mrt. Marray s growers. The latter was in prison for selfing fliquor to soldiers, and had given the key to White. They were discharged and the most reid for slapping his barrakeeper. He proved that he only requested him togo. He was discharged.

profit by the occasion to renew the protest of section and consideration with which I am Your Excellency's obscience reveals, Thomas F. Wilson, U. S. Consul.

Legation of the United States, Rio de Janeiro, May 23, 1833

To the Hon. Thom. F. Wilson U. S. Cansul, Bishis:

MY DEAR NIR: Accept my warmest thanks for myself and on behalf of our country, for the prompt, efficient and energetic manner in which you have descharged your duty as Consul under the trying circomastances to which you have been exposed. Your conduct not only meet my hearty approval, but my decided commendation, as it assertedly will that of the Government at home.

It does not become me to interfere with variety and some the toping war in the latter.

The wheel in its momentary revolutions illustrated the most radical theories of humans and them for circumstantly will and the most radical theories of humans and the part of mechanical wars and the most radical theories of humans and the part of mechanics and the form the grant part of mechanics of this to calcium the two the dipped into the lottery, at every turn, brought forth as a rich as Aleter. as it assuredly will that of the Government at home.

It does not become me to interfere with your insunctions, or to decide noon the construction of the law; but when the law is silent, as it must be necessity be in a case like the present, which could not be unterpreted, somebody must assume the responsibility of legislation temporarily in the premises. The law does not compet you to support the efficient and passengers of vessels sunk at sea by pirates, but humanity and the honor of our country do. You will, therefore, in all such cases continue to do as your ever good sense and fine feelings prompted, and consider this your authority for so doing until other wise instructed from Washington.

Believe me, dear Sir, with great respect, re me, dear Sir, with great respect.
