

Mr. Schuyler's note, by the word, at the end of the New-York Courts for the six numbers, before the Daily Paper, was never (in advance).
—
In our next number we will publish the names of any persons residing in the city who have been compelled to leave their homes, or to move out of the city, for the want of food or shelter.

The shipowner Parkersburg, Captain Spencer, left New York last evening for New York.
He will return with a full freight and the following passengers:
Mr. Mansfield, P. M. Read, Y. S. Mann, J. L.
Wheeler, Dr. G. C. and others.

NEW YORK STREAMS.—As there enough to be in some quarters a slight apprehension as to the date at which the next steamer would be to New York, we will publish the following information from our previous announcement that the George Washington would have New York on the 10th, and the Evening Star new with the 17th.

The following announcement of the arrival of the George Washington, as a sort of official paper. Leaving New York at 3 P. M. on the 10th, the George Washington, being a swift steamer, may be expected to reach this city as early as Saturday evening, and will bring several days more intelligence than that of the last steamer.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC.—The regular and instructional music, the choir, comic scenes, burlesques, and, above all, perhaps, the charming sketches of both black and white character, by the Standard Troops, continue to draw magnifically the Academy, whose demonstrations of musical skill are unequalled.

A grand matinée will be given on Saturday noon for the benefit of families, children and servants.

K. CONRAD.—BOSTON.—It will be seen that of the whole and retail grocery houses of E.
Cooley, so long and so favorably known on Front street, has been removed No. 31 Gravesend. Those settled in Boston, in the family circle, will be sorry to see it almost needless to say, can call at No. 31 Gravesend with full assurance of making satisfactory purchases.

LAWSON'S OLD STAND.—Nothing pertaining to human apparel is a subject of more concern to gentlemen who do not wish to be confounded with either the lazier or the swell, than to secure a certain style and quality of wear which is not at Leighton's old stand, corner of Canal and St. Charles streets, now occupied by "Our Safety Factory," formerly of 185 Poydras. Steel shirt collars and sheet iron sabers are among its standing attractions. See advertisement.

H. T. MONTGOMERY will sell this day, (Friday), the 17th instant, at 12 o'clock, at saleroom, No.
60 Octagon building, office, store, saloon, cigar and liquor, and a large variety of other groceries.

We call the attention of the public to the fact that General Grant, on his arrival, will have the effect of driving all speculators out of this department south of Natchez.

A Committee composed of the 2d Regt. the Department of Natchez will be commanded by General McNeil, and that General Curtis had decided to command it, who is reported to be under arrest.

It is reported that General Pope will have a command under General Grant, and that Hooker
will take command.

M. W. HARRIS, 200 Chartres.—We
are informed that General Grant, on his arrival, will be compelled to remain at Natchez, and will have no time to go to New Orleans. He will therefore be compelled to remain at Natchez
until he can get a boat to New Orleans.

General Grant has announced that the fire
was started by General Lee's men, and that Hooker
will be compelled to remain at Natchez.

A. Washington.—General Grant will have a
command under General Grant, and that Hooker
will take command.

M. W. HARRIS, 200 Chartres.—We
are informed that General Grant, on his arrival,
will be compelled to remain at Natchez, and
will have no time to go to New Orleans. He
will therefore be compelled to remain at Natchez
until he can get a boat to New Orleans.

General Grant has announced that the fire
was started by General Lee's men, and that Hooker
will be compelled to remain at Natchez.

A. Washington.—General Grant will have a
command under General Grant, and that Hooker
will take command.

M. W. HARRIS, 200 Chartres.—We
are informed that General Grant, on his arrival,
will be compelled to remain at Natchez, and
will have no time to go to New Orleans. He
will therefore be compelled to remain at Natchez
until he can get a boat to New Orleans.

General Grant has announced that the fire
was started by General Lee's men, and that Hooker
will be compelled to remain at Natchez.

A. Washington.—General Grant will have a
command under General Grant, and that Hooker
will take command.

M. W. HARRIS, 200 Chartres.—We
are informed that General Grant, on his arrival,
will be compelled to remain at Natchez, and
will have no time to go to New Orleans. He
will therefore be compelled to remain at Natchez
until he can get a boat to New Orleans.

General Grant has announced that the fire
was started by General Lee's men, and that Hooker
will be compelled to remain at Natchez.

A. Washington.—General Grant will have a
command under General Grant, and that Hooker
will take command.

M. W. HARRIS, 200 Chartres.—We
are informed that General Grant, on his arrival,
will be compelled to remain at Natchez, and
will have no time to go to New Orleans. He
will therefore be compelled to remain at Natchez
until he can get a boat to New Orleans.

General Grant has announced that the fire
was started by General Lee's men, and that Hooker
will be compelled to remain at Natchez.

A. Washington.—General Grant will have a
command under General Grant, and that Hooker
will take command.

M. W. HARRIS, 200 Chartres.—We
are informed that General Grant, on his arrival,
will be compelled to remain at Natchez, and
will have no time to go to New Orleans. He
will therefore be compelled to remain at Natchez
until he can get a boat to New Orleans.

General Grant has announced that the fire
was started by General Lee's men, and that Hooker
will be compelled to remain at Natchez.

A. Washington.—General Grant will have a
command under General Grant, and that Hooker
will take command.

M. W. HARRIS, 200 Chartres.—We
are informed that General Grant, on his arrival,
will be compelled to remain at Natchez, and
will have no time to go to New Orleans. He
will therefore be compelled to remain at Natchez
until he can get a boat to New Orleans.

General Grant has announced that the fire
was started by General Lee's men, and that Hooker
will be compelled to remain at Natchez.

A. Washington.—General Grant will have a
command under General Grant, and that Hooker
will take command.

M. W. HARRIS, 200 Chartres.—We
are informed that General Grant, on his arrival,
will be compelled to remain at Natchez, and
will have no time to go to New Orleans. He
will therefore be compelled to remain at Natchez
until he can get a boat to New Orleans.

General Grant has announced that the fire
was started by General Lee's men, and that Hooker
will be compelled to remain at Natchez.

A. Washington.—General Grant will have a
command under General Grant, and that Hooker
will take command.

M. W. HARRIS, 200 Chartres.—We
are informed that General Grant, on his arrival,
will be compelled to remain at Natchez, and
will have no time to go to New Orleans. He
will therefore be compelled to remain at Natchez
until he can get a boat to New Orleans.

General Grant has announced that the fire
was started by General Lee's men, and that Hooker
will be compelled to remain at Natchez.

A. Washington.—General Grant will have a
command under General Grant, and that Hooker
will take command.

M. W. HARRIS, 200 Chartres.—We
are informed that General Grant, on his arrival,
will be compelled to remain at Natchez, and
will have no time to go to New Orleans. He
will therefore be compelled to remain at Natchez
until he can get a boat to New Orleans.

General Grant has announced that the fire
was started by General Lee's men, and that Hooker
will be compelled to remain at Natchez.

A. Washington.—General Grant will have a
command under General Grant, and that Hooker
will take command.

M. W. HARRIS, 200 Chartres.—We
are informed that General Grant, on his arrival,
will be compelled to remain at Natchez, and
will have no time to go to New Orleans. He
will therefore be compelled to remain at Natchez
until he can get a boat to New Orleans.

General Grant has announced that the fire
was started by General Lee's men, and that Hooker
will be compelled to remain at Natchez.

A. Washington.—General Grant will have a
command under General Grant, and that Hooker
will take command.

M. W. HARRIS, 200 Chartres.—We
are informed that General Grant, on his arrival,
will be compelled to remain at Natchez, and
will have no time to go to New Orleans. He
will therefore be compelled to remain at Natchez
until he can get a boat to New Orleans.

General Grant has announced that the fire
was started by General Lee's men, and that Hooker
will be compelled to remain at Natchez.

A. Washington.—General Grant will have a
command under General Grant, and that Hooker
will take command.

M. W. HARRIS, 200 Chartres.—We
are informed that General Grant, on his arrival,
will be compelled to remain at Natchez, and
will have no time to go to New Orleans. He
will therefore be compelled to remain at Natchez
until he can get a boat to New Orleans.

General Grant has announced that the fire
was started by General Lee's men, and that Hooker
will be compelled to remain at Natchez.

A. Washington.—General Grant will have a
command under General Grant, and that Hooker
will take command.

M. W. HARRIS, 200 Chartres.—We
are informed that General Grant, on his arrival,
will be compelled to remain at Natchez, and
will have no time to go to New Orleans. He
will therefore be compelled to remain at Natchez
until he can get a boat to New Orleans.

General Grant has announced that the fire
was started by General Lee's men, and that Hooker
will be compelled to remain at Natchez.

A. Washington.—General Grant will have a
command under General Grant, and that Hooker
will take command.

M. W. HARRIS, 200 Chartres.—We
are informed that General Grant, on his arrival,
will be compelled to remain at Natchez, and
will have no time to go to New Orleans. He
will therefore be compelled to remain at Natchez
until he can get a boat to New Orleans.

General Grant has announced that the fire
was started by General Lee's men, and that Hooker
will be compelled to remain at Natchez.

A. Washington.—General Grant will have a
command under General Grant, and that Hooker
will take command.

M. W. HARRIS, 200 Chartres.—We
are informed that General Grant, on his arrival,
will be compelled to remain at Natchez, and
will have no time to go to New Orleans. He
will therefore be compelled to remain at Natchez
until he can get a boat to New Orleans.

General Grant has announced that the fire
was started by General Lee's men, and that Hooker
will be compelled to remain at Natchez.

A. Washington.—General Grant will have a
command under General Grant, and that Hooker
will take command.

M. W. HARRIS, 200 Chartres.—We
are informed that General Grant, on his arrival,
will be compelled to remain at Natchez, and
will have no time to go to New Orleans. He
will therefore be compelled to remain at Natchez
until he can get a boat to New Orleans.

General Grant has announced that the fire
was started by General Lee's men, and that Hooker
will be compelled to remain at Natchez.

A. Washington.—General Grant will have a
command under General Grant, and that Hooker
will take command.

M. W. HARRIS, 200 Chartres.—We
are informed that General Grant, on his arrival,
will be compelled to remain at Natchez, and
will have no time to go to New Orleans. He
will therefore be compelled to remain at Natchez
until he can get a boat to New Orleans.

General Grant has announced that the fire
was started by General Lee's men, and that Hooker
will be compelled to remain at Natchez.

A. Washington.—General Grant will have a
command under General Grant, and that Hooker
will take command.

M. W. HARRIS, 200 Chartres.—We
are informed that General Grant, on his arrival,
will be compelled to remain at Natchez, and
will have no time to go to New Orleans. He
will therefore be compelled to remain at Natchez
until he can get a boat to New Orleans.

General Grant has announced that the fire
was started by General Lee's men, and that Hooker
will be compelled to remain at Natchez.

A. Washington.—General Grant will have a
command under General Grant, and that Hooker
will take command.

M. W. HARRIS, 200 Chartres.—We
are informed that General Grant, on his arrival,
will be compelled to remain at Natchez, and
will have no time to go to New Orleans. He
will therefore be compelled to remain at Natchez
until he can get a boat to New Orleans.

General Grant has announced that the fire
was started by General Lee's men, and that Hooker
will be compelled to remain at Natchez.

A. Washington.—General Grant will have a
command under General Grant, and that Hooker
will take command.

M. W. HARRIS, 200 Chartres.—We
are informed that General Grant, on his arrival,
will be compelled to remain at Natchez, and
will have no time to go to New Orleans. He
will therefore be compelled to remain at Natchez
until he can get a boat to New Orleans.

General Grant has announced that the fire
was started by General Lee's men, and that Hooker
will be compelled to remain at Natchez.

A. Washington.—General Grant will have a
command under General Grant, and that Hooker
will take command.

M. W. HARRIS, 200 Chartres.—We
are informed that General Grant, on his arrival,
will be compelled to remain at Natchez, and
will have no time to go to New Orleans. He
will therefore be compelled to remain at Natchez
until he can get a boat to New Orleans.

General Grant has announced that the fire
was started by General Lee's men, and that Hooker
will be compelled to remain at Natchez.

A. Washington.—General Grant will have a
command under General Grant, and that Hooker
will take command.

M. W. HARRIS, 200 Chartres.—We
are informed that General Grant, on his arrival,
will be compelled to remain at Natchez, and
will have no time to go to New Orleans. He
will therefore be compelled to remain at Natchez
until he can get a boat to New Orleans.

General Grant has announced that the fire
was started by General Lee's men, and that Hooker
will be compelled to remain at Natchez.

A. Washington.—General Grant will have a
command under General Grant, and that Hooker
will take command.

M. W. HARRIS, 200 Chartres.—We
are informed that General Grant, on his arrival,
will be compelled to remain at Natchez, and
will have no time to go to New Orleans. He
will therefore be compelled to remain at Natchez
until he can get a boat to New Orleans.

General Grant has announced that the fire
was started by General Lee's men, and that Hooker
will be compelled to remain at Natchez.

A. Washington.—General Grant will have a
command under General Grant, and that Hooker
will take command.

M. W. HARRIS, 200 Chartres.—We
are informed that General Grant, on his arrival,
will be compelled to remain at Natchez, and
will have no time to go to New Orleans. He
will therefore be compelled to remain at Natchez
until he can get a boat to New Orleans.

General Grant has announced that the fire
was started by General Lee's men, and that Hooker
will be compelled to remain at Natchez.

A. Washington.—General Grant will have a
command under General Grant, and that Hooker
will take command.

M. W. HARRIS, 200 Chartres.—We
are informed that General Grant, on his arrival,
will be compelled to remain at Natchez, and
will have no time to go to New Orleans. He
will therefore be compelled to remain at Natchez
until he can get a boat to New Orleans.

General Grant has announced that the fire
was started by General Lee's men, and that Hooker
will be compelled to remain at Natchez.

A. Washington.—General Grant will have a
command under General Grant, and that Hooker
will take command.