THE CITY CURRENCY.

The currency has been overruled by the professional passing in which it is subject to the fluctuations of the market. The gold and silver coins which are the legal tender and the standard currency of the nation, and which are issued by the Treasury of the United States, should have been taken out of circulation long ago. When the gold and silver coins were first introduced into this country, it was supposed that a period would arrive when it should be discontinued, but that time has not yet come.

The gold and silver coins which are the legal tender and the standard currency of the nation, and which are issued by the Treasury of the United States, should have been taken out of circulation long ago.
