The Phonographic Magazine. We are under obligations to Messes. H. C. Manley and J. O. Nixon, Jr., editors and proprietors, for the third number of this periodical, published by them at 94 Camp street, and devoted to the interests of phonographers and students of short-hand. Each number, we are pleased to notice, shows improvement spon in predecessor. We are also pleased to learn from the number before us that there is a likelihood of a noticity of ponographers being formed in Blaice Sepremo Court in which was involved the question of the constitutionally of the Act of Congress which declarase that the Tressury Notes of the United States shall constitute an inequilibrium of Court of the Court by Jadge Besjamin E Curtis, of Zocton, and Attorney General Evarts, who take the affirmative side of the question and by two lawyers of lessure notes for the angulive. It is a boson amounted by telegraph on the authority of an editorial article in the Tribans of Now Tork that the Court will probably pronounce a facers in the case adjudging the Act in question to be unconstitutional, but we can hardly believe that such a report will prove correct.

Undoubtedly, previous to the war-the anticing but gold and silves—the constitutional and provided in an opinion that nothing but gold and silves—the constitutional that poined in an opinion that nothing but gold and silves—the constitutional and provided in the Court of Congress a legal tender in the payment.
