TAUGHT HER A LESSON.

A Selfish Young Woman Who Was Not Content with One Seat for One Fare.

When a newspaper man boarded a Madison street cable car the other day, says the Chicago Times-Herald, he saw five men standing and glaring at the only vacant seat—vacant in the sense that its only occupant consisted of several small packages deposited there by a young woman next to the heater.

Before the man sitting had finished his expected disclaimer of ownership the young woman snatched up the packages and placed them on her lap with the air of a greatly aggrieved person.

FREE LUNCH CHURCH. In a London Chapel Cold Collation served to All Those Who Attend.

With respect to religious services it has often been said that "fools who came to scoff remained to pray," but a new and more polite version of the line, says the London Telegraph, has been furnished by Lincoln's Inn, under whose auspices "those who came to pray remained to lunch."

It is a recognized fact that the searches of M. Pasteur have saved many millions of francs to the French people by showing them how to guard against the pests of their herds, fields and vineyards.

CELESTIAL LINGUISTS. The Remarkable English Displayed in Two Chinese Laundry Advertisements.

On upper Third avenue, Brooklyn, two slant-eyed Celestials have opened laundries within a few doors of each other, and are engaged in a fierce business rivalry.

Noticing the crowd which his rival's announcement had attracted about the latter's door, and not understanding wherein lay the force of the attraction, the second laundryman consulted with an Italian cobbler next door, for whose knowledge of English he entertained the most profound respect.

That section of South Brooklyn is losing sleep these nights puzzling over this second sign.

Sold His Pension to the Government. The Duke of Norfolk has just computed a pension which has a curious history. It goes as far back as Flodden Field, where his ancestor, the earl of Surrey, commanded, and was awarded a perpetual pension of $300 a year for his victorious soldiery.

How Temperature Affects Ivory. Ivory billiard balls, freshly turned, have to be treated very carefully, as a sudden change in temperature may cause them to crack.

The Telegraph in Ireland. Ireland's telegraph department recently proved that it could manage Gaelic by taking the speeches delivered at an Irish festival at Letterkenny, county Donegal, in the native tongue and receiving them at Dublin so that they could be printed in Gaelic characters in the Free Press Journal.

THE GAMBLER WINS ALWAYS.

An Ingenious Electrical Device for Winning at Dice Revealed by an Odd Table.

Among the battered fetsam and jettam that has accumulated in a second-hand store in New Orleans, says the Times-Democrat, is a shabby round table with a curious secret, and no doubt a still more curious history.

This strange device is explained clearly enough by its present owner. "It is a dice table," he said, "on which a lot of money has been won.

THE GERM HUNTERS. Homes and Factories Rendered Safer from Disease by Their Efforts.

It is a recognized fact that the searches of M. Pasteur have saved many millions of francs to the French people by showing them how to guard against the pests of their herds, fields and vineyards.

Thousands of homes and factories are safer from disease-producing germs because of the spread of a kind of knowledge which is quite superficial.

EXCESSIVE POLITENESS. Trait of Dresden People Which Sometimes Makes Them Appear Ridiculous.

The people of Dresden are very polite, so other-polite that they not infrequently bring down ridicule upon themselves. It used to be told in that city that a stranger was one day crossing the great bridge that spans the Elbe, and asked a native to direct him to a certain church which he wished to find.

Noticing the crowd which his rival's announcement had attracted about the latter's door, and not understanding wherein lay the force of the attraction, the second laundryman consulted with an Italian cobbler next door, for whose knowledge of English he entertained the most profound respect.

THE LUCKY STONE.

A New Stone from Russia in the Fashionable Favorite at Present.

The latest thing in mascots comes from Russia and resembles a white cat's paw. It combines the translucency of the moon-stone with the fire of the opal, and can be graphically compared to a bit of petrified sunset.

This stone is limited in its power; for instance, the agate of June brings health and long life. Who was ever satisfied with just these two things. The last bit of mysterious potency, like its predecessor, jade, brings all the heart's desires—that is, if you wear it and believe in it constantly.

DUTIES OF RULE IN INDIA. There is Always Plenty to Keep a Viceroy's Tacitful Wife Occupied.

Edward Page Gaston thus defines the new duties of Lady Curzon, the wife of the viceroy of India: "It is sometimes devolved upon the wife of the viceroy of India to give audience to a native maharajah alone, when she is her duty to advance and meet him on the threshold and duly wear him a seat, after which her American tact prompts her to speak of the satisfaction it is to see him in her home, to inquire after the health of his family and to pay him all the usual compliments of the season.

One of the delicate duties of the lady of the viceroy's mansion is to learn the rules of management governing the native servants, for these have their places as unalterably fixed by caste as persons in higher stations.

Marked Contrast Between the Liberty of the Present Day and 100 Years Ago. Cardinal Richard allows 'Parisians during Lent a regimen that is not very hard. They may have meat every day except Wednesdays and Fridays, though never meat and fish at the same repast.
