THE SIGN OF THE BOOT.

A Familiar Emblem That Usually Hangs Over the Door of the Shoemaker's Shop.

The sign of the boot seen hanging out in front of the shoemaker's shop may be made of wood or zinc or of copper.

People are telling a most remarkable story about a famous but somewhat eccentric woman who was lately visiting the capital, says the Washington Post.

When they all came to the table the famous guest asked for a finger bowl. The maid, too well trained to show surprise at anything, brought a bowl half filled with water.

THE SIGN OF BECKONING. A New Gesture Acquired by United States Troops Returning from the War.

Among the troops returning from the new territories added to the United States by the Spanish war many have unconsciously acquired a new trick of gesture, says the New York Tribune.

Why Cats Hiss. Why does a cat hiss when angry? Take a tiny kitten at play and make it angry and it will snarl in its baby fashion and hiss as best it can.

How Liked Sagan. In a Vermont maple sugar camp, owned by Mr. Forsyth, the owner this spring often missed cakes of the maple sugar which had been set out in the snow to harden.

White Tiger. A white tiger was shot lately in the Dibrugarh district of Assam, according to the Calcutta Englishman.

MANUFACTURED EGGS.

Common Shell of Gypsum is Used, Which is Carefully Colored and Marked.

From recent observations of an expert collector of birds' eggs it became apparent that there was in existence a person who made a living by imitating nature in the production and coloring of birds' eggs, says the London Penny.

Specimens of this undoubted but misplaced skill have found their way to collectors in all parts of the world, and yet so completely and carefully has the work been done not one of the buyers has ever discovered them to be "manufactured."

Possession of the Ching Fang Sword in China Gives One That Privilege.

It is announced by the Imperial Gazette of Peking, the court circular of the Chinese empire, that the dowager empress has presented two "Schang-Fang" swords, one to Prince Tsa Tschai, elector of Tuan, the other to Prince Tsa Lien, III, grade.

THE SCHANG-FANG SWORD DATES BACK centuries, still there is only one other instance, besides the one just mentioned, recorded in Chinese history, where this sword was given to anyone.

FLATHOUSES IN MALTA. Interested Capitalists Look to America for the Latest Kind of Fittings.

Valletta, the capital of Malta, has been invaded by the Harlequin and the Maltese are delighted. One large flathouse having proved a success, several more are about to be built and the Maltese want to know just how the thing is done in New York.

MORMON PRIESTHOOD.

Its Influence is Felt in Business, in Politics, and in Social Life.

The priesthood can always rely on the women. They have been the strength of the church, even under that system of polygamy which made them "living martyrs."

None who goes through this experience ever forgets the power of the priesthood, and each understands that if he should show too great a spirit of independence he may be called again to make the sacrifice.

HER BRIDEGROOM'S UNIFORM. She Wanted It to Be a Combination of an Admiral's and a General's.

One of the young gentlemen who have just been appointed in the regular army was married only a few weeks ago, and his bride takes a great deal of interest in his uniform.

PRAIRIE GIRL'S WEDDING. She Seldom Takes a Trip, But Goes Direct to Her New Home.

As the prairie girl has grown up with her training along practical lines, so she asks only of her lover that he shall be manly and true, writes Charles Moreau Hanger.

CAPTURING STURGEON. Mounted Russian Cossacks Fish Through the Ice of Swift Rivers.

To fish while mounted on the back of a horse probably would be beyond the capacity of gentle Isaac Walton.
