

ITALIAN PAPER WANTS REPUBLIC

BARONS ARE TOO STRONG FOR N. O.

Rome, June 28.—The Italian official Socialist party and its newspaper, Avanti, have just come out openly in opposition to the war. The members of the party are understood to be in league with anti-war factions of Socialist parties in other belligerent nations. They demand a republic here.

At a secret meeting in Milan the executive committee of the party adopted a platform demanding:

"A republican form of government with a self-revolving parliament; universal suffrage; both sexes of voting age; proportional representation; abolition of the Senate, which is now appointed by the crown; limited freedom of organization, press and speech; abolition of the political police."

"The foreign policy of the nation to be taken away from the executive branch of the government and intrusted exclusively to the parliament."

"Communal and provincial autonomy; home rule."

"A labor policy tending to develop the latent wealth of the country."

"A policy protecting the consumer, strictly co-ordinated with a nations policy of production."

"Recognition on the part of society of every workingman's right to a decent living."

"A fiscal system based on progressive income tax; extension of state monopolies."

The Socialist propaganda will for the present be confined to the claque masses of the cities and agricultural districts. Later on it is said an attempt will be made to introduce the propaganda in the army at the front. Impartial observers consider this as the most dangerous part of the Socialist program, as General Cadorna has impressed the country with the fact that politics will not be tolerated within the war zone and that any effort to sow discord among the troops will be inexorably repressed.

PLAN CAMPAIGN AGAINST FIRE

Precautions against destruction of food products by fire will be taken in New Orleans shortly according to plans made by the National Board of Underwriters. Within a few days a subcommittee will be organized and will work in New Orleans with this end in view.

The vast annual loss of food staples through fire has long been recognized as very largely preventable, but there never before has been such an opportunity for initiating about a widespread campaign of conservation. The successful fruits of this campaign it is said, should preserve the living or unharmed thousands whose food requirements would be destroyed were the fire loss to remain as usual.

ITALY FORCES STEAMER
COMPANIES TO BUILD

By International News Service.

Rome, June 28.—Italy is taking heroic measures to do her share in building new cargo ships to combat the U-boat.

It is understood that navigation companies will soon be ordered to invest every penny of extra war profits in the construction of new tonnage. This takes the place of the present order that 8 per cent of extra war profits be set aside to meet an after the war industrial crisis or to be invested in new industries.

Under a decree just issued every Italian steamer now lying in dry dock under pretext of repairs, as well as every vessel anchored in home waters as unfit for navigation for any reason, will be inspected by government engineers and ordered out as soon as repairs can be completed. This order is prompted by the fact that ship owners in some cases are reserving their vessels for after the war trade. These owners refuse to send their ships out to face the risks of submarine warfare on the ground that government insurance is based in the before-the-war value of steamers.

The protection of coal properties, including breakers, tipplers, etc., of fertilizer works, of saw mills and of piers and wharves, are important divisions of the work undertaken.

This campaign is enlisting the services of approximately four thousand trained engineers, inspectors, surveyors, and appraisers located in every part of the country as well as of numerous supplementary insurance organizations and an army of officials, leagues, committees, and associations, all concentrated into a single movement working earnestly for the nation's safety.

RIVER STEAMER STOPS TRIPS

Surprise in shipping circles here was caused yesterday when it was announced that the big river steamer East St. Louis would be withdrawn from the trade between New Orleans-St. Louis. Shipping men of the city declare that the withdrawal could not have been made because of lack of business and are at a loss to know the meaning.

SUFFS WERE TURNED LOOSE

Washington, June 28.—Mabel Vernon of Nevada, and Virginia Arnold of North Carolina, two suffrage pickets taken into custody by Capitol police Saturday when they attempted to display a banner on the visit of the Russian mission to Congress, were not brought to trial as had been planned because the congressional committee who have charge of the grounds advised the police to drop the case.

Schulte Goes to Philles; Good Despite His 35 Years

By JACK VEICK.

New York, June 28.—Ole Frank Schulte recently made his third move as a major leaguer when he went to the Phillies.

He was sold to Philadelphia by Pittsburgh for the waiver price of $1500, and, according to all reports, Pat Moran jumped at the chance to land him.

We say "Ole" Frank, because Schulte is in his thirty-fifth year. When a ball player passes the "three-ton" mark he is called a veteran, yet veteran that Schulte is, his services are still in demand.

Early in the season Schulte cracked a floating rib in a wrestling match with one of his teammates. As a consequence he was out of the lineup for a time and his hitting fell off. Jimmy Callahan decided that he would switch Schulte and give some of the young buckos on the Pirates a chance to hit his shoes. When he asked for waivers, Pat Moran made a flying tackle and landed Schulte, whom he had tried to purchase from the Pirates, last winter.

ITALY FORCES STEAMER
COMPANIES TO BUILD

By International News Service.

Rome, June 28.—Italy is taking heroic measures to do her share in building new cargo ships to combat the U-boat.

It is understood that navigation companies will soon be ordered to invest every penny of extra war profits in the construction of new tonnage. This takes the place of the present order that 8 per cent of extra war profits be set aside to meet an after the war industrial crisis or to be invested in new industries.

Under a decree just issued every

Italian steamer now lying in dry dock under pretext of repairs, as the fact that ship owners in some

One Italian line will launch five 8000-ton boats between August and December next, and proposes to build eight more next year. Another company has ordered three new express steamers. Two new navigation companies have been organized under a government subsidy plan with a capital of $20,000,000. They have a big building program.

"HALT!" SAID THE SENTRY

Even horses must obey the commands of the sentries about camp

Nicholls. This was demonstrated yesterday as there is now one less horse in the world who failed to heed the command of a sentry.

According to the story told at the camp, a Monfalcone Laundry wagon was approaching the camp and the soldier on guard gave the usual command, "Halt! Who goes there?"

There was no halt. Neither was there any answer to "who goes there." The driver started to cross the line, but the horse never got any further than the end of a hayo-net. Like a noble "war horse" he gave up his life without making a sound.

At the laundry stables nothing could be learned about the affair.

Likewise the officers of the camp refused to give the name of the private who killed the horse.
