WILL IT DROP IN THIS WAY?

Capt. H. M. Carter of the Carter Packet Company, says he has been forced to discontinue the steamer Elam between New Orleans and Harrisonburg because of lack of patronage...

Mr. Walter Parker, special inland traffic expert of the Department of Commerce, on the other hand, says that steamboat traffic on the rivers is declining, because the steamboat owners do not solicit business and because the way landings are in poor condition...

Harry Gamble, assistant attorney general, is finding it a hard task to draw a bill for legislative consideration which will preserve the right to vote for Louisiana men who are performing military service...

The French and English newspapers have the laugh on the newspapers of the United States at last. After the European war began, American newspapers went on cheerfully printing the war news without interference or restriction...

The National Editorial Association will hold its next annual meeting at Little Rock and Hot Springs, Arkansas, now laugh, darn you!

LEGISLATIVE NOTES

Representative Powell's fence cutting bill seems to have aroused much inquiry among the cut over farmers. The bill is in the interest of the farmers, not against them.

The bill empowering police juries to appropriate land for a right of way for the inter-coastal canal will do away with several "hold ups" which have blocked construction at different points.

Senator Stafford's bill for a commission to study the question of mother's pensions met such a chilly reception before the senate that it froze to death, but later was revived and is still pending.

A number of measures are now on the final passage in the House. Among them are bills creating a state council of defense, prohibiting aliens from having fire arms, permitting expropriation of land for the intercoastal canal...

The widow's dower amendment has passed the senate and has been sent to the house.

The senate is conducting an inquiry into the disappearance of a number of electric fans since the last session.

The tick eradication bill has been passed to third reading. It provides for dipping every fourteen days.

The state constabulary bill is considering considerable opposition.

Chances for a measure providing salaries for the state board of public utilities appear to be slim.

The bill to make Alexandria dry will probably die a peaceful death.

No enthusiasm seems to have been aroused by the bill making vagrants of all men who fail to work thirty six hours a week.

A Louisiana branch of the National League to Enforce Peace was organized by members of the legislature Thursday night.

The bill restoring control of public roads to police juries, and annulling the road supervisors bill of the regular session has been favorably reported.

The "home guard" or "constabulary" bill carries a $60,000 annual appropriation.

If the State Council of Defense bill passes, Louisiana will have $25,000 more a year to pay.

The State Food bill puts control of food, fuel, seeds, etc., in the hands of the State Council of Defense.

The cattle tick bill, the vagrancy bill, the insurrection and sedition bill and the roads bill restoring police juries their ancient privileges were slated for final passage by the senate Monday night.

May Play Part in the Great War

Brigadier-General Edwin F. Glenn was born in North Carolina January 10, 1856, and appointed to the military academy from that state in 1873...

General Glenn was recently promoted, and is known as one of the "war generals." He is a noted field soldier, and in his campaigns in the islands of Samar and Mindanao, in the Philippines, while subduing the wild tribes on both these islands, he became known as a fighting man.

General Glenn is a student and author, having published "Glenn's International Law" in 1895. In time of peace, he would retire next year but owing to his great military ability it is thought that he will be continued on the active list during the period of the war against Germany.

LAST OF FOUNDERS OF LOCAL CHARITY IS DEAD

One of the last of the founders of the order of the Little Sisters of the Poor, Sister Angela Augustina, was buried in St. Louis Cemetery No. 3 yesterday.

She was a native of Brittany, France, and had lived in New Orleans since 1868 when, along with several other sisters of the order, she founded the home for the aged in Johnson street at the corner of La Harpe street.

MANY SALOONKEEPERS ACCUSED OF VIOLATIONS

Affidavits were filed yesterday morning against 31 saloon keepers for violation of the Sunday law, this being the largest number since the enforcement of the law was undertaken some time ago.

The twenty-eight musicians of the First Louisiana Infantry Band will join with the regular City Park entertainment band at the concert on Wednesday night as heretofore.
